WARN APPLY NOW FOR '52 SPACE IN NEWMARKET FAIR

Applications for space at the 1952 Trade Fair must be made in writing to the chairman, Eugene McCaffrey. Already over half of those exhibiting this year have applied for space in next summer's show. This year 5,885 square feet of space was rented.

At a meeting of the Newmarket Horticultural society held at the home of the president, Rod Caldwell, to complete details regarding this year's show, Mr. McCaffrey reported that requests have come in from merchants who had not exhibited previously. It was decided to ask for the applications in writing so that a definite plan can be drawn up for the 1952 fair.

A meeting of the Trade Fair committee will be held shortly so that those desiring space are requested to get their applications in immediately.

Tape Recorder Adds Zest To Council Meet

Councillor Jos. Dales brought a tape recorder to the Newmarket council meeting on Monday night and members eyed the gadget somewhat apprehensively until Mr. Dales explained that he had brought it along because he thought council members might like to hear how their voices sounded.

He added that the record would be destroyed at the end of the meeting.

With these assurances, council got down to business while the recorded hummed softly in the background.

After council adjourned, Mr. Dales played back portions of the meeting while members listened with rapt attention, or chuckled self-consciously as they heard their voices.

"Remarkable gadget" was the general consensus.

Furs, Tropical Fish Take Your Choice At Legion Auction Sale

Want to buy a bird cage? Or a mower? Perhaps a fur coat or even a tank of tropical fish? You'll have an opportunity to make that purchase at the Newmarket Legion auction sale in the arena on Saturday.

The auction sale is something new in the Legion's efforts to raise funds for welfare work among veterans but from the way the project is shaping up, Chairman Bill Tulloch says that it looks as if it will become an annual affair.

Mr. Tulloch has a book filled with donations made by Newmarket and district residents of articles to be auctioned. The entire proceeds go to the Legion. "We've a bit of everything and a lot of some things," says Mr. Tulloch.

'VOLUME IS PROOF' ERA CLASSIFIEDS SHOW BIG INCREASE

The pulling power of Era and Express classifieds is demonstrated in this week's issue of the paper. On pages six and seven, there are 12 columns of classified advertising.

This is not a record for the Era and Express, but it is indicative of the faith readers put in Era and Express classifieds. Those ads will go into homes from Schomberg to King City, from Sutton to Mount Albert, some 4,000 homes in all, giving advertisers the largest classified market in North York.

This volume of advertising is the best proof of satisfaction.

Swimming Pool Gets Boost As Lions Start Campaign For Project

Lights Up, Hope Opener In 10 Days

The floodlights at the fair grounds are all up and the next step now is putting in the wiring. Work is expected to start at once on this phase of the program.

The final cluster of lights was mounted over the weekend by Harold LaPlante, Jack Donaldson, Ian Brown and Ray Parliament, Bell Telephone workers, and hydro employee Wendell Gilbert. Other volunteers on the job over the weekend were Charles VanZant, Eddie Gibson, Geo. Haskett, Geo. Watt, Cyril Keats, Chas. McDonald, Frank Newton, Bill Haskett, Fred Dillman and Harry Boag.

A young lad of 12, Doug Irwin, who hopes one day to be starting under those lights, came along to offer his services and was promptly put to work as messenger boy.

As yet, the committee in charge, Chairman VanZant, vice chairman Albert Topham, Ken Flett and George Haskett, hasn't set the date for the opener but with luck, it should be within the next ten days.

The following is a list of donations to the floodlight campaign to date:

MUNDINGER BAND HERE

The Munding Accordion Band, prize winners at Waterloo Festival, will play in Newmarket arena tomorrow night (Friday) under the sponsorship of the Newmarket Lions club. The proceeds of the concert will be applied towards the swimming pool fund.

The first step towards having a swimming pool for Newmarket was taken Monday night at the first meeting of the year of the Newmarket Lions club. The civic improvement committee of the club was appointed to investigate cost and methods of construction and bring in a report to the club as soon as possible.

The committee is under the chairmanship of Chas. E. Boyd.

President Jns. B. Walker, starting his term last Monday, said that the club should have a major project and urged that the swimming pool be considered. There was enthusiastic agreement from the club and the civic improvement committee was directed to assemble the necessary facts and figures.

"It is not our intention to make this a closed project," said Mr. Walker. "The swimming pool is a community need and it should be a community project. I propose that when we have some facts to go on that every organization in the town be contacted and a representative committee appointed to go into the matter."

"This can be a success if we all work together, and I am sure that the Lions will have every support from other organizations in setting up the campaign," he said.

The Lions have already undertaken the first steps in raising funds for the proposed project with two events scheduled in the next couple of weeks. The first is the appearance in the Newmarket arena of the prize-winning Munding Accordion band Friday night and the second event is the old time dance and hoe-down on September 26 in the newly-paved market square. Proceeds from both events are for the swimming pool fund.

Enthusiasm for the swimming pool has increased since the committee of Charles VanZant, Albert Topham, George Haskett, Ken Flett and George Haskett, hasn't set the date for the opener but with luck, it should be within the next ten days.

He said that when the committee reported, an open meeting would be called to discuss the report.

Newmarket Protests New Bell Rate, Say Service Not Adequate

Newmarket town council moved to formally protest the increase in Bell Telephone rates in Newmarket at the regular meeting on Monday night. The decision followed notice to council of the application for the rate increase.

The decision to protest was unanimous but earlier, Mayor Vale, while objecting to the proposed increase, doubted if a formal protest could be made unless the council was protesting on definite grounds. He did not believe that a protest in principle was adequate.

"The company has prepared a lengthy report on the reasons for the rate increase application but I doubt if any of us know enough about it to make a proper protest," he said.

Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spilllette pointed out that the Board of Transport Commissioners in

Ottawa, to whom the Bell has made its rate increase application, would be going into the question of Bell company operations and whether the rate should be increased or not. "But in accordance with the service we have been getting, I don't see how an increase is justified," he said.

Councillor Tom Birrell added that he didn't object to paying extra for Bell phone service "if we got the service, but we don't." He cited a recent long distance call and the manner in which it was handled as "poor service".

There were other criticisms of the service. Reeve Arthur Evans pointed out that the Mayors and Reeves Association was also protesting the increase.

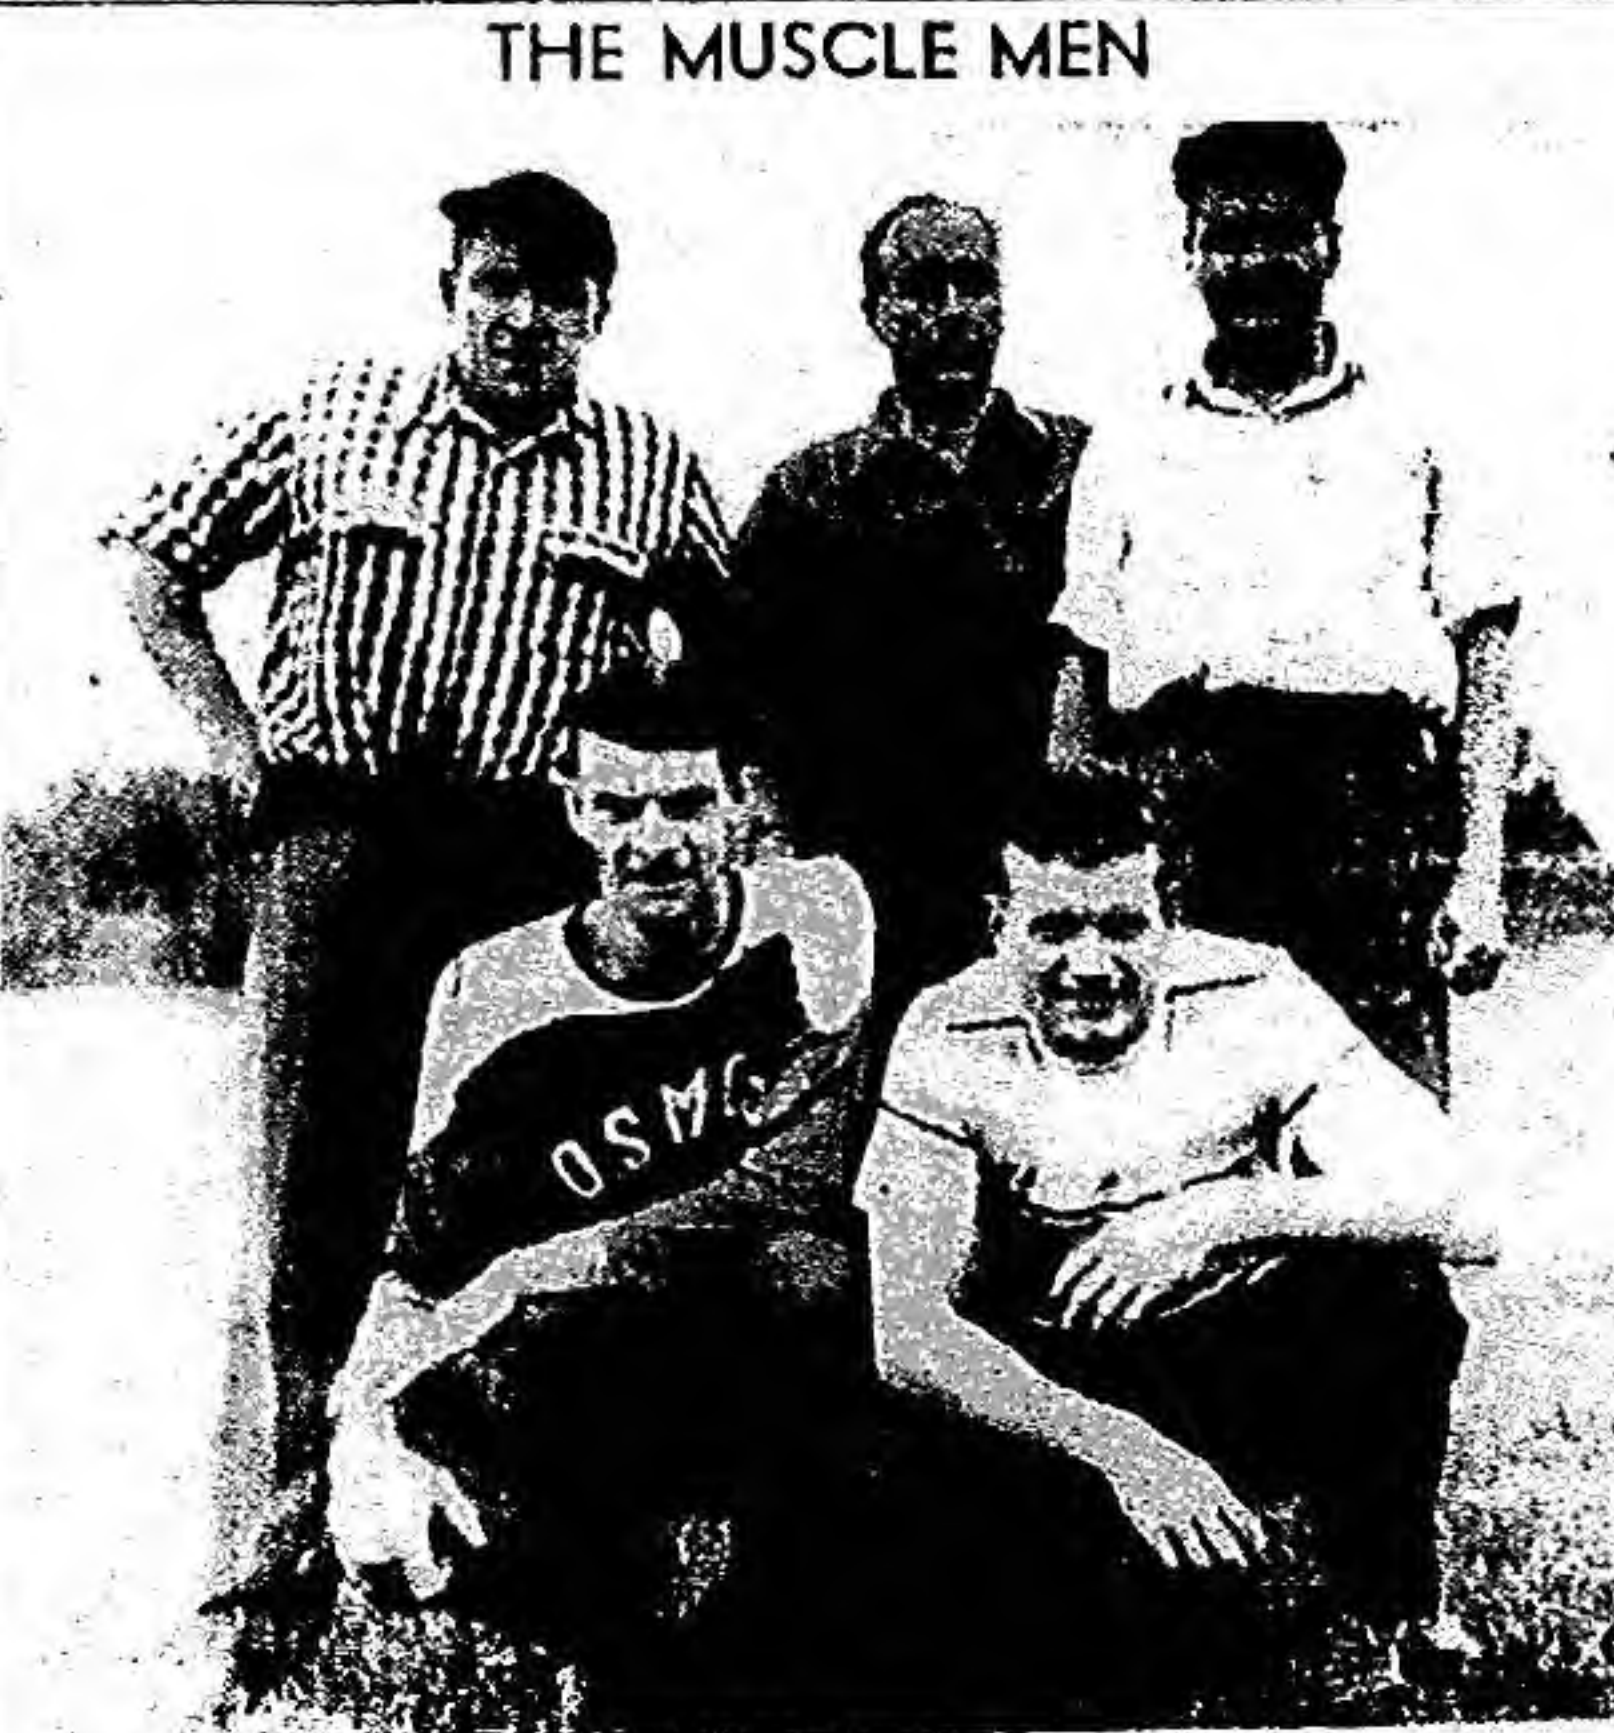

Council then decided that a formal protest "in principle" would be sufficient to express their objections to the increase.

NEWMARKET PUT 'ON MAP' IN PAGES OF TORONTO PAPER

Even if Newmarket has not yet the roadside signs which would put it on the map (see Editorial Page), it is managing an alternative at any rate. Saturday's issue of the Toronto Telegram is featuring Newmarket in its "On The Map" series. Two reporters from the paper were in town all day Wednesday, taking pictures and getting facts on the "Hub of North York."

The Story Of SHARON

By

ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the fourteenth instalment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining instalments will follow weekly.

Temple Reopened 1918

It was reopened in September of 1918 and the traditional illumination was enacted. This occasion was honored by a company of distinguished Canadians. Addresses were given by Hon. George S. Henry, Hon. E. J. Davis, Sir William Mulock and Dr. James L. Hughes, Warden Griffiths of York County and Reeve Ramsden of East Gwillimbury also spoke. Mrs. O. B. Sheppard read an historical paper. The Band of the 48th Highlanders of Toronto provided the music, and York County Council voted $200 per year forever toward paying a curator.

This was a day in contrast to those prophetic days of a century previous. More than 2,000 people attended and of those 1,000 arrived in automobiles instead of horse-drawn buggies or ox-drawn wagons. Since then the Temple has been in use as a Historical Museum and the Pioneers were concerned then, as they still are, that articles of historical value may find a permanent home within its walls.

Mr. Clarence Sheppard of Toronto, writes that immediately after the purchase his mother, Mrs. O. B. Sheppard, went from door to door asking for donations of antiques for the Museum. "I have driven a good many miles with her for this purpose and know whereof I speak!" In the various exhibits may be traced much early history of York County. Each exhibit could inspire a story of its very own. Shortly after the re-opening at the Illumination Frank D. Barker, a one-time citizen of Sharon and later of Dundas, Ontario, crept from window to window and lighted the candles.

After the Pioneers had acquired the Temple and established the Museum land was required for purpose of a park. In June, 1925, Michael Ramsay sold to Charles H. Haines, Absalom Willson and Marvin Wilmot Barker, as joint Tenants, a part lot, - 318 feet by 494 feet. In turn, in June, 1927, these same trustees conveyed this land to the Pioneers.

The Province of Ontario contains but few buildings which have such a wealth of tradition as that which belongs to the Davids Temple at Sharon. Each year it is increasing in antiquarian value and each year its romantic history is adding to its attraction.

Illuminated List

In the Temple hangs a framed illuminated list of names of those who each contributed in 1917, $100, to purchase this property for perpetual use as a Park and a Museum. - Sir John Aird, T. M. Brown, James Casey, Hon. Charles Crawford, William Crocker, Hon. E. J. Davis, John Firstbrook, R. J. Fleming, B. J. Fleury, Thomas Foster, Sir William Gage, Col. A. Gooderham, Geo. H. Gooderham, Thomas How, James L. Hughes, Sir Sam Hughes, Fred O. Jarvis, M. B. Knowlton, A. Wheeler, P. C. Larkin, M. D. McIntosh, Arthur Miles, L. G. Moore, Sir Edward Oster, John Rennie, Alfred Rogers, A. S. Rogers, Joseph Rogers, Charles Sheard, M. D., Mrs. O. B. Sheppard, W. J. Sisman, George St. Leger.

Burying Ground

The most conspicuous object in the village of Sharon is the Temple of the Children of Peace, - the most neglected-looking spot is the Burying Ground of that same religious sect, and it lies approximately a mile below the Temple.

The date of the origin of this burying ground has not been found but Mr. William Doan states it was there at the time of the arrival of the Doans to Queen Street, the year of 1818. While the Friends occupied the land given by David Willson several Friends were laid in the burial plot which is now a garden beside the present store and where, until comparatively recently, several stones were to be seen. After the separation of David Willson from the Society of Friends, a number of the remains were exhumed and re-interred in the Children of Peace Burying Ground.

As already stated original records of the Children of Peace are scant. It is on record in the County Registry Office that in March, 1843, James King sold to Robert Fenton, Lot No. 7, in the third concession of East Gwillimbury, and said to contain 99 acres and 135 rods. This lot had previously contained 100 acres. In June, 1848, Robert Fenton sold to Judah Lundy, whose son-in-law, B. F. Irwin, in 1907, sold to James Farr the same land, less the south-west corner which had been reserved for a burying ground and constitutes the north half of that same burying ground. Also in 1813 there are two burials, - Israel and Robert Willson.

Years later it became necessary to procure additional land. It is recorded by Deed bearing date, March 29, 1878, and registered April 20, 1878, that "Jacob Lundy and his wife, Hannah, sold for a consideration of $73 to the Trustees of the Children of Peace, a charitable society, the north-west corner of Lot No. 6, Concession 3, township of East Gwillimbury, for a burying ground." This comprises the south half of the place. The Trustees to take this Deed were William Graham, Jacob Lundy and Amos J. Hughes.

Iron Fence Donated

In 1927, Mr. John Smith, a jeweller of St. Catharines, and formerly of Sharon, at a cost of more than $1,500, donated the handsome iron fence and ornamental gate at the Queen Street side. This he did as a memorial to his parents, George P. Smith, 1825-1884; Sarah Downes, mother, 1825-1872; George P., Jr., 1853-1884; Mary Jane and Matilda, G. P. Smith was at one time resident, store-keeper and merchant tailor of Sharon.

Again in 1948 Mr. Reg. MacMillan of Vancouver and also of Sharon, contributed $1,500 and through this generous gift a matching iron fence was provided to enclose the three remaining sides of the cemetery. The Canada Trust Company attended to this fencing for Mr. MacMillan. Credit that is outstanding is merited by these gentlemen for these substantial tokens of respect.

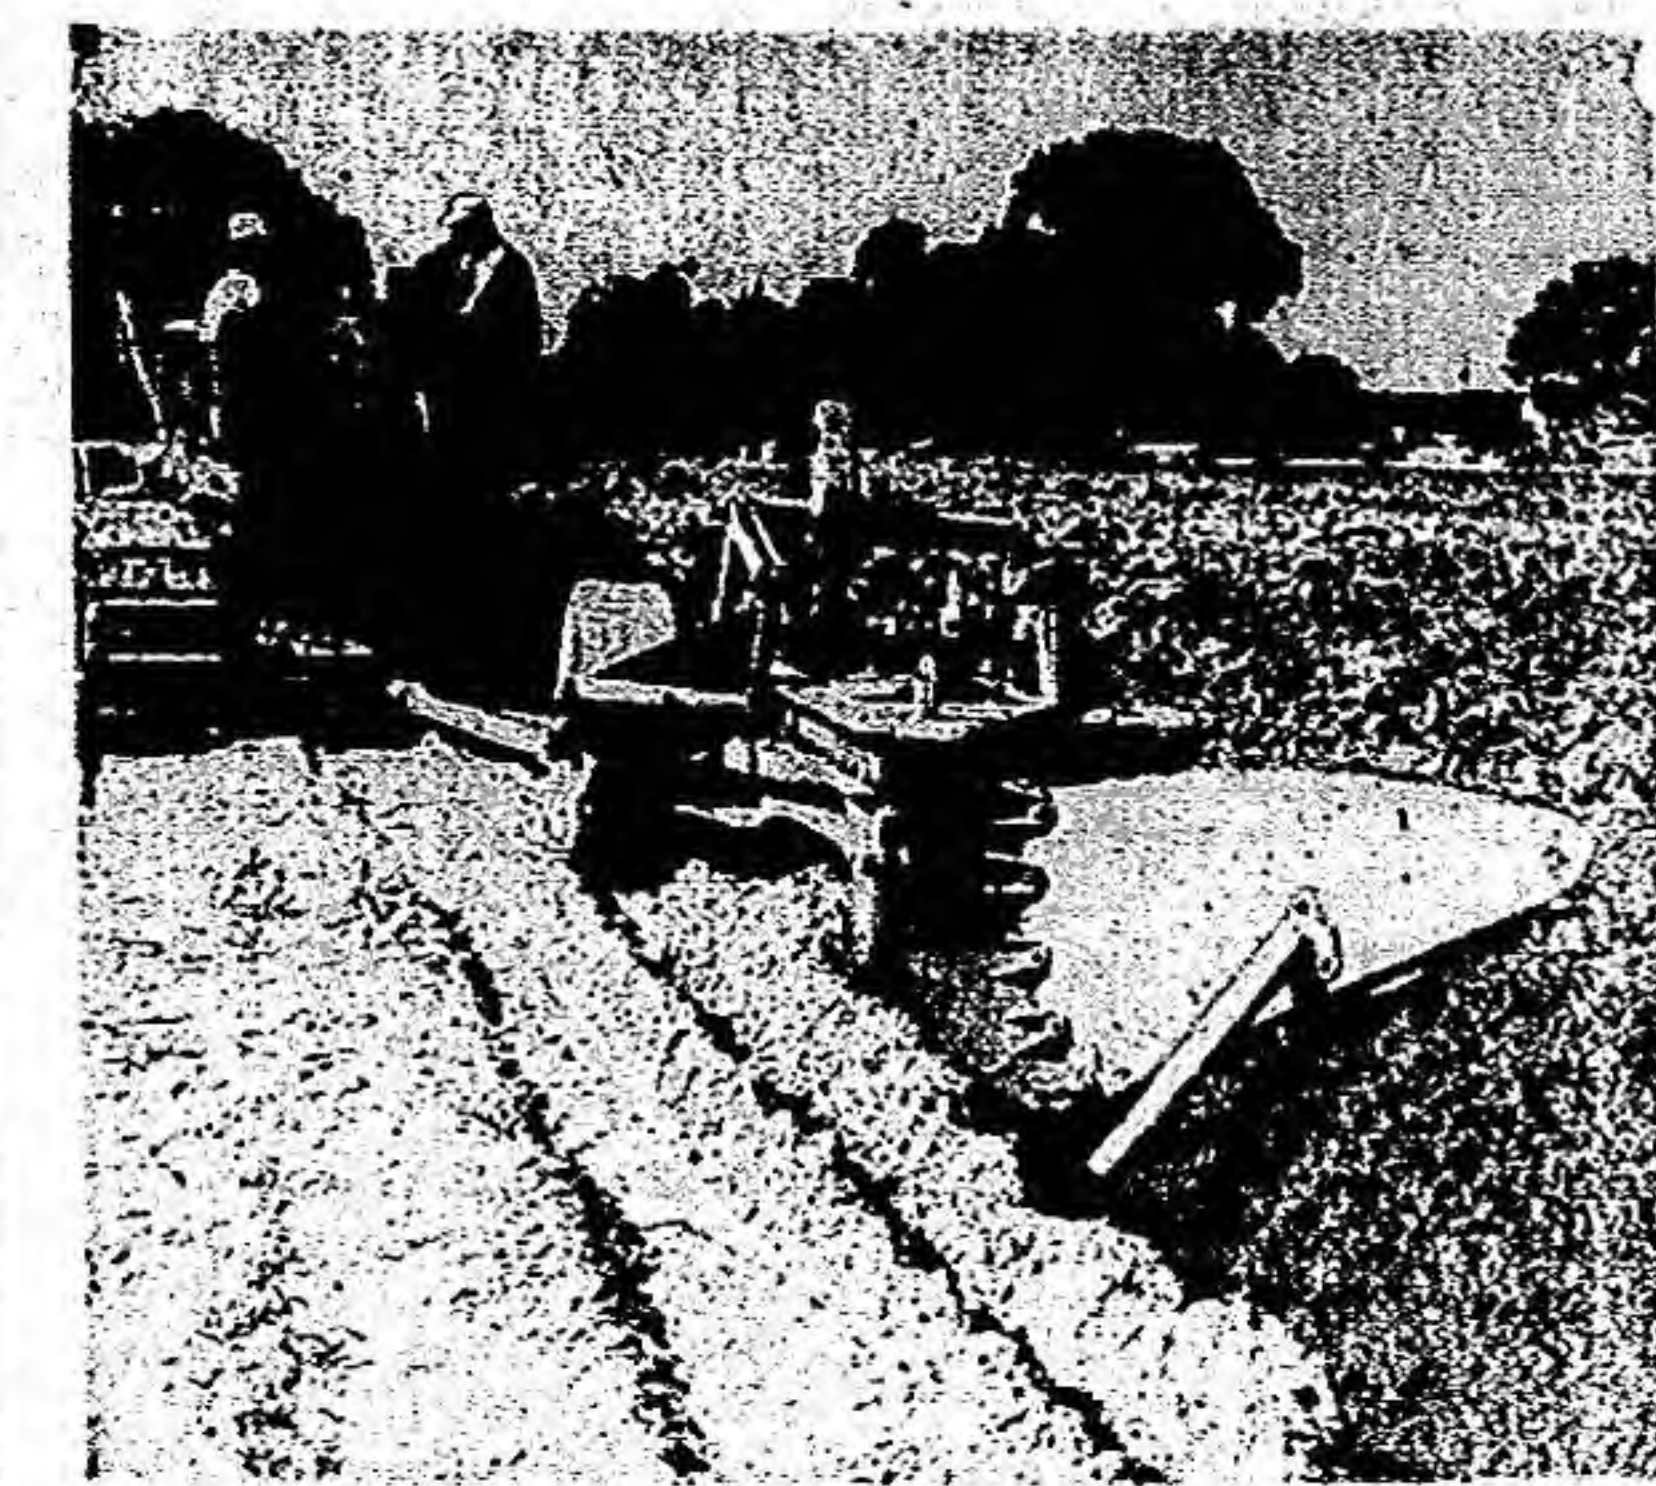

For years, while the Society as an organization was still corporate, the members and families cared for this burial plot - as the Society declined, residents of the community carried on the same upkeep from a sense of respect for those resting there. One account has been found describing a Bee that was held in 1884 when the whole place was given a thorough renovating. Three other gentlemen are also outstanding, who, though far from Sharon, contributed to the care of this place. Mr. Herbert Lundy, Mr. John Smith of St. Catharines, both now deceased, and Mr. James E. Kavanagh of New York, regularly sent cheques to the late Mr. Absalom Willson in Sharon so that he might engage help to keep this Children of Peace Burying Ground in a decent condition. The decayed grass and weeds were cleared away, individual plots and graves were given attention by the descendants.

Then war deluged the world, shortage of help and a corresponding cessation of interest interfered until at the present the enclosure has clothed its re-proachful appeal in a blanket of desolation. Vandals have gone in and have mutilated some of the memorials. In 1944 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis of Yonge Street entertained a number of the descendants of those resting there and ways and means were discussed. Lack of funds blocked any permanent effort.

Interred in Order

In the north, or hill section of this unusual burying ground a lack of arrangement of the graves is to be observed. Closely they lie, grave to grave. Among the Davidites the departed were laid in the order in which they had died. The Quakers of early days used the same system. It is suggested that these former Friends of Sharon continued as for generations they had laid away their members. In this same section the graves lie north and south. No explanation has been discovered as to this particular custom. Later a desire was expressed to have family plots and this changed order was in process of establishment when the Society began to decline. In the later, or south section, the graves extend east and west. Other cemeteries by this time were being opened throughout the county and families were reserving space. As well, no prospect of permanent upkeep was a major contributing factor to the present condition.

A growing plant requires access to some 20 chemical elements.

In the wake of floods that swept many square miles of fertile farm lands in Kansas, recently, farmers were faced with the problem of restoring their fields to fertility. This huge plow solved the problem for Brune brothers, Lake View, Kan., farmers. Turning up furrows 40 inches deep, it brought to the surface the subsoil that was buried under sand and silt by the floodwaters.

Pay Sheep Claim Of $410
Said Largest Yet In Whit.

Possibly the largest sheep claim paid by Whitchurch Township council was sanctioned at the regular meeting on Saturday, for W. H. Anderson, lot 22, con. 4, a total of $410 for 12 animals.

A delegation of ratepayers from Musselman's Lake appeared before council with a number of complaints touching on numerous subjects pertaining to the summer resort. Taxes and assessment came in for considerable criticism, as well as non-cutting of weeds and condition of the roads.

"Why is it," stated one ratepayer, "that the roads are always repaired in the fall after we've all gone home, and then they're broken up again when we come back in the spring?" Parking near the Sunny Valley dance pavilion was said to be blocking the roadway on weekend occasions. The delegation was told that parking on the roadway was prohibited in this section and the O.P.P. had moved cars from there a number of times.

Council sanctioned the payment of a grant of $25 to each of the three local High School districts, Stouffville, Aurora and Newmarket, to be given as a general proficiency award to a Whitchurch student attending each of these three schools.

A recommendation was tabled from the Township Planning Board, calling for action against Geo. Preston of Preston's Lake, whom it was alleged, was selling lots contrary to a registered plan. Council agreed to adopt the recommendation and will proceed with the necessary legal action through the township solicitor.

There was some discussion concerning the naming of an independent Court of Revision to sit on assessment appeals next month, but the matter was delayed until a later date for final decision.

A petition was received from ratepayers of Fairview Ave. and Lakeland Ave., Wilcox Lake, for

"Savings play a vital part in the battle against inflation"

... says Emerson Creed, Financial Editor,
The London Free Press

"Can inflation be checked?"

"Every one of us is concerned with the answer to this vital question. Today's all-time high costs of goods and services affect the living standards of people in all walks of life; and those living on fixed incomes are especially hard hit."

"In addition to weakening our economy, inflation threatens our defence programme."

"Therefore every method of controlling rising prices must be applied with vigour."

"Government measures such as increased taxes, credit restrictions and reduced non-defence spending are necessary, if unpopular. Of course, business and industry must co-operate—especially by increasing productivity. The average man might feel that any control he alone can exert is insignificant. But the individual can and should help by doing his utmost to save money."

"Every dollar he saves—through bank deposits, savings bonds or life insurance—plays a part in helping to stem the tide of inflation. And at the same time, it brings the severest important personal benefits.

"These benefits need no reviewing. But it may be pointed out that nothing has changed their importance even though there are many demands and temptations to use income for other purposes. Nor has anything supplanted saving as the one method most people have of obtaining many of the things they want and need most."

"All in all, there are more reasons for personal savings today than ever before."

Special Notice to Employers
AND
Those Enlisting in Armed Forces

By The Veterans Benefit Act, 1951, passed at the last session of Parliament, the Government of Canada has extended and made applicable the provisions of the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act, 1946, to all persons enlisting in the Regular Forces of Canada after July 5, 1950, (nineteen fifty) and who serve therein for a term not exceeding three years.

This provision extends also to members of the Special Force who re-engage for service with the Regular Forces, the three-year coverage period beginning with the date of re-engagement.

This provision extends also to members of the Reserve Forces who after July 5, 1950, are called out for service with the Regular Forces and serve with the Regular Forces for a period not exceeding three years.

By an Order in Council passed in 1950 under the Canada Forces Act the provisions of the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act, 1946, were extended to members of the Special Force and members of the Reserve Forces who serve on the strength of the Special Force. The reinstatement provisions of this Order in Council have now been incorporated in the provisions of the Veterans Benefit Act, 1951.

Under the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act a discharged person may claim reinstatement either verbally or in writing, usually within three months of discharge in Canada or four months if discharged overseas. There is provision for extension of this time when through a condition of health the employee cannot return to his employment this soon, but the employer must be notified in three or four months, as the case may be, and a Reinstatement Officer should be consulted.

Perhaps you read the item in the Oak Ridge news last week, a tale of woe the like of which we've not seen in many months. It concerned the kin of an Oak Ridge lady. Mother and aunt, the sisters were visiting in England and in their travels, boarded ship for the Isle of Man.

Coming off the ship, the aunt lost the heel from her shoe. She is a big woman and the incident was not considered lightly. They searched about for repairs and in the process, the mother left her purse with their fares in one of the stores they visited.

She was so overcome by this disaster that she fainted and in her fall, her head went through a shop window. On the way home, the aunt became seasick. The ship's carpenter was, however, able to repair the shoe.

We forecast Hamilton Tigers to win the Big Four in the eastern rugby loop last week, and the boys obligingly won their third league game against Argos, last years champions. It was their third defeat administered to the latter by the former if an exhibition tilt is included.

We read an article in Maclean's about how the Argos are so disliked by the rest of the league and what a shame it was. We hate to be so conveniently classed as an Argophobe but it's pleasant to see Hamilton having at least one ambition fulfilled.

They used to tell us that courtesy paid off on the road. We're beginning to doubt it. Two incidents in recent weeks have jarred us somewhat. The first involved J. D. Cullen. One noon hour he slowed his truck and then halted it at Main and Park to let a pregnant woman and child cross in front of him. Behind him the drivers piled up and although the drivers behind him could see the cause for delay, it didn't stop

TAX ISSUES ECHOED

East Gwillimbury council has raised the township tax rate by only a half mill but school and county rates are up, public school rates an average of 5.4, high schools, 2.6, and county .6. The council, in its report of the new rate observes that the total of the above, 8.6 mills, was increased by administrative bodies over which the council has no control.

It's the same story again—municipal councils, as senior administrative bodies and responsible for collection of taxes, forced to adjust rates in accordance with decisions of boards over which they have no direct control. East Gwillimbury's observation was made earlier in Newmarket and Aurora, and, we venture, in nearly every other municipality as school rates climbed to unprecedented heights this year.

Theoretically, the township has some control over both high school and county rates, expressed through high school board representatives in the first instance, and through reeve and deputy in county council in the second. In practice, such representation does not carry much weight. But it does seem to us that when both bodies are composed of similar representatives, and each hesitant to carry back to his council an increased rate, that when the rate is increased, there must be very good reasons for it.

As far as the public school boards are concerned, they are on their own. Council has no control over them and for every argument against this arrangement, there is one in favor of it. Councils do have a point, however, when they claim that they are obliged to collect taxes which are determined by another body. Such a procedure is wrong in principle. In practice the tendency has been for municipal councils to reduce their own tax requirements so that the total will be lowered and this is equally lamentable.

But there is no getting away from the fact that because school boards have been freer to spend than councils, the standards of public schools have been generally improving, and it is questionable whether there'd be that gain if the boards were without immunity.

The issue of council control over school boards will undoubtedly receive much consideration in the discussions of Premier Frost's recently appointed Provincial-Municipal Committee which held its first meeting on Aug. 15.

INCIDENTAL INTELLIGENCE

The Financial Post prints a bit of incidental intelligence which, we think, is worth passing on. It notes that in the fiscal year of 1950 (from budget to budget, so to speak), there were 44 attempts upon the life of President Truman. In fiscal 1951, there were 85, and 3,629 persons were questioned about telephone calls and letters they sent to the White House.

The score for Prime Minister St. Laurent and Governor-General Alexander? Zero. The deputy commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police tells the Financial Post that there have been no attempts on the lives of either man in the past two years "unless it's something we don't know about—no threatening letters, phone calls, no suspicious characters—nothing of the kind."

"We leave readers to their own reflections," says the Financial Post.

UP AND AT 'EM, HE SAYS

Press reports last week made much of Premier Frost's determination to slash red tape from farm marketing procedures. Unfortunately, either Mr. Frost did not elaborate or the daily press, which carried the reports, did not consider an elaboration of enough interest to print. At any event, all we know is that Mr. Frost is going to slash red tape from farm marketing.

There is much to be said for the intention but much to question in the source. It was Premier Frost's government which has made such a balderdash of milk marketing. In this instance, he has again left us with much to ponder upon with his statement to milk distributors to improve their methods or else someone else would do it. Perhaps this slashing of red tape means he is going to free the farmer of the Milk Control Board.

The report says something about straightening out constitutional difficulties. This inevitably recalls the efforts of the farmers to establish wheat marketing control in Ontario and the frustration that followed those efforts because the province, although confronted with the examples of other provinces, didn't see how it could be done.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Well, credit the intention and let's wait and see what comes of it, not that there's anything else to do about it anyway.

NEW PHONE RATES

Toronto has already served notice that it will protest the application of the Bell Telephone Company to increase its rates. Other municipalities will no doubt follow suit. With these protests, there will probably be a renewed demand that the company be taken over by the government. This demand, however foolish, was raised the last time the Bell sought an increase and will be strengthened by the precedent.

We fail to see the logic of "nationalization" in this instance. The Bell, in its application for increased rates, is required to provide the Board of Transport Commissioners with complete details of its operations. The only issue is the validity of its need.

There are grounds for nationalization but they do not apply here. The fact that rising costs require an increased return is no reason for nationalization. The householder, at least, can always discontinue his phone if the new rate is not to his liking and he will lose little more than a convenience.

The company, like the majority of other businesses today, simply needs more money. Government ownership won't change that fact. The only difference from such a course would be that payment might be made in taxes instead of on the phone bill. But increased payment there will be regardless of the operator. And to ask the government to be the operator is to invite all the attendant risks of bureaucracy, centralized control and inefficiency that have marked similar ventures in the past.

NEW SLANT ON SIGNS

We thought that this summer, Newmarket would have at last put itself upon the map with appropriate signs on Yonge St. But the project, starting with something of a bang of enthusiasm at the Lions club was carried to council and there apparently has fizzled in committee since nothing has been heard of it lately.

In the meanwhile the bulk of the tourist traffic has passed us by, ignorant of our existence, waiting to spend those tourist dollars up the highway at Barrie and Orillia where the tourist is a valued business prospect and treated with the respect all merchants accord the cash customer.

Well, there's next year, and the year after. In the meantime, we offer for further consideration some form of identification for the air traveller who is passing over our heads in increasing numbers these days. Gregory Clark in his Packer column writes:

"From the business promotional standpoint, the identification of towns and small cities could be an extremely useful thing. Seen vertically, a town reveals aspects of it you could not possibly see on a horizontal visit—the extent of the factory areas, the character of the railway facilities, or watercourses. On the outskirts, you see big industrial plants you never realized were part of the town, no matter how often you had visited it by car or train. In other towns you cannot help but be impressed by the vast expanses of fine cultivated farm lands extending for miles around it and you can only suppose it is a thriving centre."

There must be a roof or two nearby that we can make use of. Possibly whitewashed stones at the outskirts, set out to spell Newmarket to the skies. Of course, such a sign-post will serve little purpose to the highway traveller but at least it will offer a fresh approach and in consideration of the one, something may evolve about the other.

DANGEROUS CORNER

Davis Dr. and Main St. is one of the most dangerous corners in Newmarket. On the apparent assumption that all traffic going up Main St. will turn right to continue along Davis Dr. to the east, "Stop" signs are placed on the south-west corner and north-west corner. But there is no indication whether the driver crossing Main towards the west, or the one crossing Davis Dr. to the north has the right-of-way.

Now that the sand and gravel trucks are rumbling along Davis Dr. at a good speed, the corner has become more dangerous. A through driver to the north is going to be knocked into the Rosworth hedge if he should collide with a through truck travelling west.

Either Main St. or Davis Dr. should be declared the through street and end this risk of accident.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

The closing days of the Cuttin Corners Annual Thimble-berry Fair and Horse Show were a great success. But one accident and some embarrassing moments on a woman's day program marred the otherwise festive occasion.

It was during the final pickle judging that N. Brian Weeks, the undertaker and furniture dealer who had the last say in the dills was clutched by violent spasms on the platform. He had just taken a two inch bite from a large dill pickle made by Mrs. Fannie Forum on the eighth concession. The crowd was hanging on every crumb, and an expectant hush had settled over the Pure Produce tent.

On the first crunch, N. Brian Weeks' face was contorted into a mask of horror! There was an agonizing gulp in Weeks' throat and Mrs. Fannie Forum, looking on, fainted. (It was her dill being judged).

As N. Brian Weeks toppled backwards over a picnic table, the crowd was seized with a panic. What strange thing had happened to Weeks? Had he been poisoned or suddenly struck dead by some mysterious hand? And they all were afraid because there was no other undertaker in town.

When the crowd settled down and Dr. Orvette had made his examination, Weeks came to, but his face looked a little more shrivelled than usual. After perusing violently on Weeks' chest and listening with his stethoscope, the Doc went over and sniffed the pickle jar. "Hah!" said Dr. Orvette, "Turpentine." Mrs. Forum burst into tears and the officials started making a search in the area where the contestants were standing.

Sadie Diable was a jealous old spinster. She made dill pickles too. She had a pouty look and an air about her. The air about her at the particular moment smelled of turpentine! That's where she made her one mistake. She forgot to put the cap back on the bottle when she poured the turpentine into Mrs. Forum's pickles, unnoticed in the crowd. When she put the bottle back in her purse, the stick to the same size containers and they are delivering it the same way. Their whole thinking is the same. The competition is not in packaging or methods of selling or other efforts to outdo their rivals. Certainly, no attempt is made to boost sales as any other business would, namely by doing it better or making it look better. The dairies' only idea of competition is to send their men to the housewives' doors and try to put a different bottle on the porch. Only it is done more coyly. They usually send six trucks up the same street and let the housewife pick the nicest color.

We wonder what would happen if a person with imagination went into the business? What if they started selling two quart plastic containers? If they started a selling campaign guaranteeing a real pick-up and a real delivered price. (By the way, would the Milk Board like to tell us how much it really costs to deliver a quart of milk?) How about opening milk depots where nothing but milk is sold, open for a couple of hours, twice a day? In the morning for housewives, and in the evening, say, from four to six for business people.

Well, we are full of ideas. But our main idea is to try to put the finger on the sorest spot in this milk issue, the inefficiency and old fashioned merchandising methods of the dairies. They are losing customers and potential milk drinkers by the thousand. They are instrumental in decreasing the consumption and ruining our business. They are giving a black eye to milk, an essential food. They are hollering about free enterprise, when what they mean is freedom from thinking and improving.

Meaning to tell her the best way to make dill pickles, she said to Fannie, "And do you think you can make the best dill pickles?" And Fannie Forum burst into tears.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

The more we read and cogitate on the problem of milk, the more we are convinced that the real problem in this present uproar is not the question of price to the producer or distributor. It isn't the problem of surplus or quotas. It certainly isn't the question of the price to the consumer, in spite of what the consumer representative may say.

As far as we are concerned, it is purely a question of proper merchandising and selling. The only reason that this problem interests us is that while we are improving our methods of production and breeding more efficient cattle, and in general providing a very creditable product, our immediate customers, the dairies, are following the worst stuck-in-the-mud methods and using merchandising practices that haven't changed since our old cow's mother was a little calf.

Having had the city slickers point their fingers at us until they've cramps as inefficient and backward and downright stupid, may we borrow a little of this and point our finger at the big business of the dairies. During the last 20 years, the production of this essential commodity has improved by leaps and bounds. Milking machines and coolers and all the other things have become matters of course. The further step of milking parlors is coming and there aren't too many stables today without cement and steel.

And what did the milk industry do? They can proudly point to the fact that they squared the round milk bottle. And that is just about all. They are picking up milk in the same size cans and unless we are mistaken, they are the same cans used 20 years ago. They are sending milk trucks over the same roads to do it. They

Our readers write

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

The Editor: It is certainly smart news to learn that according to Hon "Tom" Kennedy, our able and vivacious agriculture minister, this province likely will harvest crops of "peak" value in 1951. Here's hoping that the weatherman will co-operate on this target. As one of your western readers, I feel like adding a similar plea for our prairie brethren who are particularly dependent upon favorable harvesting conditions for the next few weeks and are looking forward, also, to garnering and housing of one of the greatest crops of their brief but fruitful history.

Under favorable conditions, as you know, the prairies might reach to $800,000,000 worth of wheat alone this season, which, unless I am mistaken, would touch a new cash total for the breadbasket since the opening of our generous wealth-producing West.

The above, taken in conjunction with several hundred million bushels of the coarse grains (oats, barley, rye, flax, etc.), dairy and livestock products, seems to indicate the possibility that our prairie farm cash income may outrun the record level of 1948's $1,245,000,000 and go to the head of the revenue class.

It is only realistic, of course, to remember that our operating costs have also climbed skyward, and that today's 51-cent dollar has also to be remembered, in measuring the above massive totals against pre-war income levels. However, it seems decidedly worthwhile recording the fact that, in 1928, the topflight agricultural revenue year of pre-war times, the official figures show a farm cash income of $615,000,000 for the prairie provinces, and an overall figure for the dominion, in that year, of $1,072,478,000.

Considering the present state of the world, with the dangers inherent in the clashing ideologies—"those who would be free and those who would be slave"—I feel that the 1951 abundance in Canada takes on even added meaning. Certainly it would grow no smiles on the faces of potential aggressors anywhere,

Just A Farmer.

Oak Ridges News

MRS. LAURA KOLLING, CORRESPONDENT, PHONE KING 8

Opening Night of Oak Ridges Home and School Association is one of the highlights of the term. It is a time when newcomers are welcomed and the teaching staff is introduced. On Monday evening, Sept. 10, at the school, a gathering of over 70 and a small sprinkling of children attended the first meeting of the coming year with Mrs. Stewart Acheson, the new president, in the chair.

Mrs. P. A. McClellan, president of York Council, was guest speaker. An excellent speaker, Mrs. McClellan is able to show the practical aspects of the work. She defines the aims and benefits of Home and School as it endeavors to cement the bond of understanding between the parents, the children and the teachers.

Principal John Martin was introduced by Mrs. Acheson who is also one of his teachers. He said the enrolment of students stands at 216, as against 374 last year. The drop is due to erection of a new school at Lake Wilcox. Mr. Martin spoke of the many duties demanded from his staff last year in handling the overcrowded school at Oak Ridges. He said he and his staff had done their best to meet the school bus, to ensure physical safety to all children. With the return to more normal routine of classes and less encroachment on time, new ideas would be developed.

The principal stressed the importance of good food, plenty of rest and cleanliness in children, which is the responsibility of every parent who desires the best for his child. Mr. Martin introduced the teachers to the assembly, Mrs. Acheson, Mrs. J. A. Appleton, Miss Harris, Miss Nicholson, Mrs. Zimmerman, Miss Marion O'Neill, and Mr. Anderson. Home and School Essential

As the child needs its parents for guidance and direction, so the school, a centre of any community, needs its Home and School Association, pointed out Mrs. McClellan, who was introduced by Mrs. Bob Woolley, past president of the local organization. Through it parents may find first hand knowledge of "what goes on in the school, what the teachers are like, the environment of the school and how the trustee board serves the section." "Contact is the essential character of growth," said the speaker. The parent should realize his child is one of many; that he should not be singled out for special favors.

Parents, she said, maintain a line of communication with their children. They should find time and opportunity to take up their problems and to discuss these with them. The child needs guidance as well as the quality of self reliance. In every child must be developed a sense of responsibility and self discipline. The habit of always telling him "what to do", of persistent questioning, fails to gain his confidence, and respect.

The child that comes to his parents of his own volition, speaking his mind, revealing his line of thought has a better chance to discern right from wrong, to make the right decisions and to assess life in the proper perspective, the speaker indicated. "A listening parent is a wise one."

Miss Shirley Hare of Temperanceville sang, "A Beautiful Basket of Roses" and she was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Fred Hare. Bernard Boyd, 15, versatile entertainer, gave two tap dance numbers and sang an Irish song. He was dressed in an Irish gentleman's costume and performed very creditably. Living in Toronto, Bernard hopes one day to be professional in this field. His mother was his piano accompanist.

Membership Expanded
Membership in Oak Ridges Home and School Association was increased by 20 members on Monday night. It was agreed to put regular meetings forward to the fourth Tuesday evening of every month. This arrangement will not conflict with other local meetings and will give the Oak Ridges organization opportunity to look in on Aurora's Home and School meetings. At the close of the meeting refreshments, convened by Mrs. Bob Ash, were served. Mrs. J. A. Gimmell poured tea. Others assisting were Mrs. Knuckey and Mrs. McMillan.

The H and S afternoon tea will be held at Ridge Inn, September 19. Everyone is invited. Safety Elephant Will Visit

On Monday, Sept. 24, at 2:30 p.m., Elmer, the Safety Elephant, will be hoisted to the top of the flagpole at Oak Ridges school. He will be an honored guest for as long as there is no traffic accident involving any child in the school. When an accident occurs Elmer will be hauled down from his post for a period of 30 days. The Elmer flag will then be hoisted again to resume his ever watchful job, to remind children that safety is the best policy. When a child is not to blame for a traffic accident, the Elmer flag is to remain at the top of the pole.

When the flag is raised on September 24, a ceremony will be held around the flagpole. Provincial police will be there to explain the meaning of Elmer and to tell the children how to prevent accidents. The teachers and the school board, and all the parents are expected to be present for the official presentation of the Safety Flag. Mr. E. W.

Guerre of Toronto. The hostess received a coffee percolator from the Tupper firm in acknowledgment of the hospitality.

Lion Club Active

The opening meeting for the new year was held by Oak Ridges Lions Club at Ridge Inn on Monday evening, with the new president, Jack Blyth, in the chair. On Monday, Sept. 24, the annual ladies' night will be held at Ridge Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Orwin Harrison and son, David, have moved into their new home on the south Lake road. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Musson are moving to their new home on Elmgrove Ave this week.

Donald Ash has resumed his piano studies with Miss Dorothy Armstrong of King after vacation. He is taking Grade 6, and is in grade 7 at Oak Ridges school, under Principal J. Martin.

Captain E. C. Hawman and his wife have purchased Bain's General store at Oak Ridges including Oak Ridges Post Office. They will take over this coming Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lockhart, who have carried on the business for the past four years, have not yet decided what their future plans are.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stephenson and family were guests at the wedding of Peter Lee King of Toronto and formerly of Aurora to Miss Florence Lew of Toronto and Vancouver in Trinity United Church, on Sept. 6. The reception for a large number of guests was held at Casa Loma following the ceremony. Miss Anne Stephenson was soloist for the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson were guests of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee King, who entertained in honor of their son and his bride at the "Golden Dragon", on Sunday evening.

At the C.N.E. luncheon held in honor of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Mrs. Stephenson and her daughter Anne were among those present.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Miss Helen Stiles is in Toronto attending Normal school.

Miss Iva Stiles, Reg. N., is spending a few days in Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stiles. The Women's Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. Bert Stephens on Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 2:30 p.m. All are welcome.

The Bible study at the home of Mrs. John Thompson on Tuesday evening was well attended.

ELMHURST BEACH

Mrs. Lloyd Sedore gave a miscellaneous shower for Miss Cairine Sedore. Mrs. Walter Hirst gave some very humorous numbers. Mr. Roy Pollock was chairman.

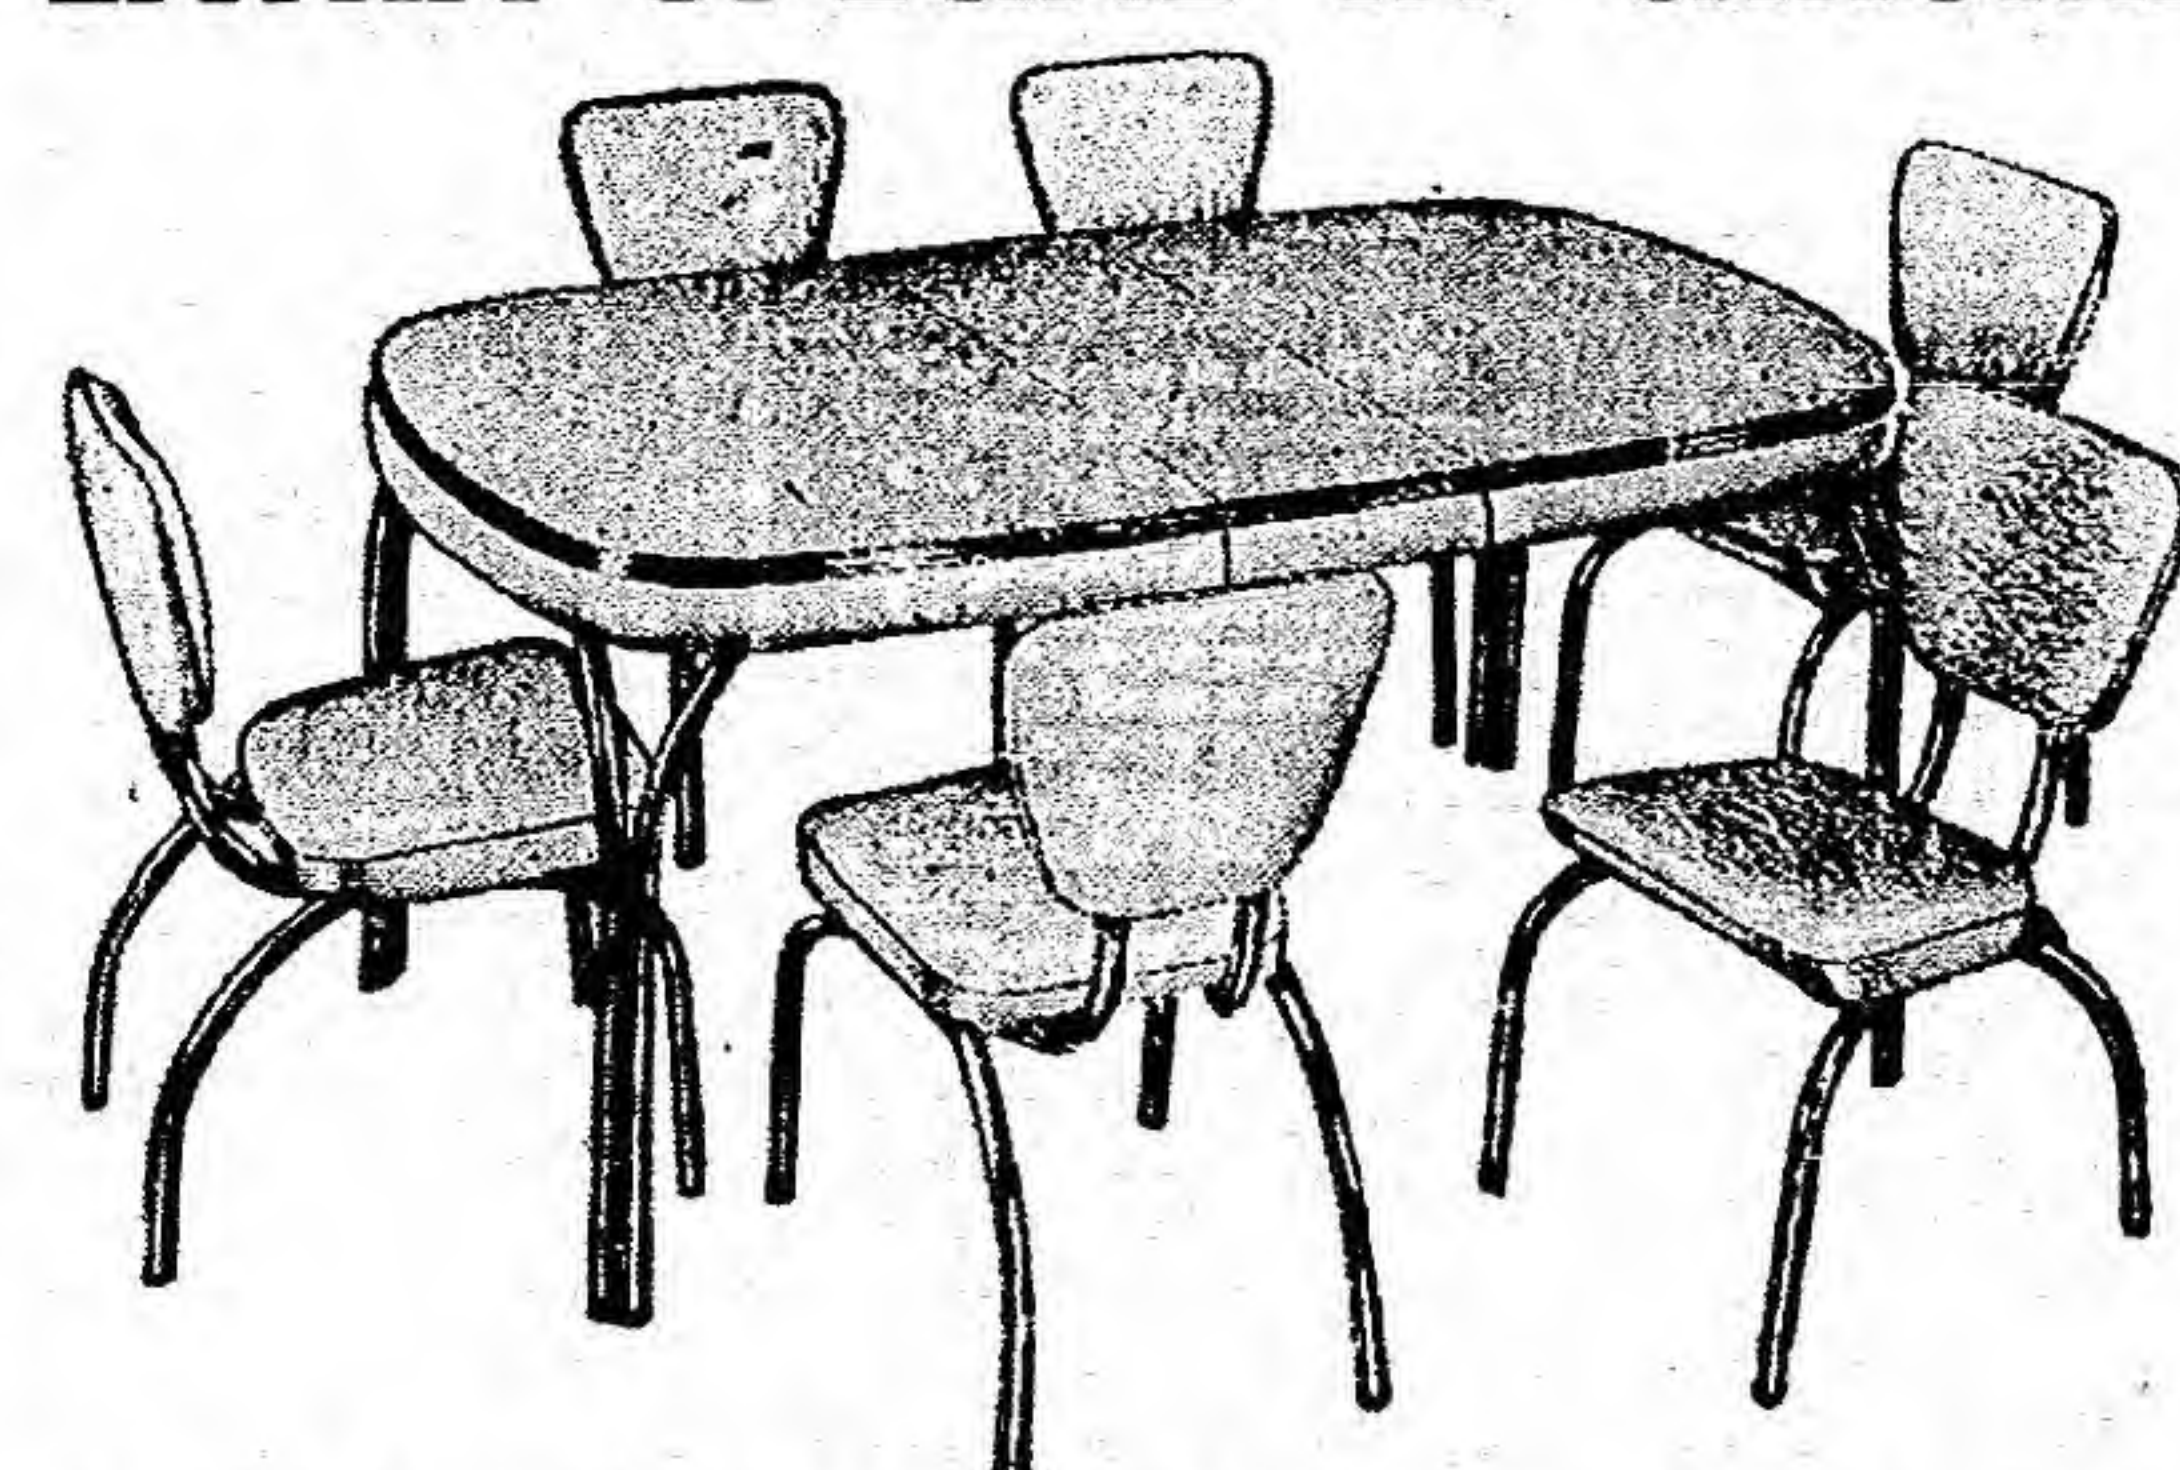

SURPRISE FOR "J. O."

A surprise party was held on Friday, Sept. 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Little to celebrate Mr. Little's 85th birthday.

The Newmarket Era and Express, Thursday, Sept. 13th, 1951 Page 5

There were 16 present. A very pleasant evening was spent with the hostess serving delicious refreshments. J. O. Little, a familiar figure in the community is enjoying good health.

Needlecraft News by Pauline Roy

Bazaar time is fun time for all concerned. It's fun when a group works together to raise funds for a worthy cause. It's also looking up old family recipes for fruit cake, lining up the jars for your preserved specialties, crocheting the pieces on your favorite dolly, sewing the ties on a checked gingham apron, or finishing any of the hundreds of contributions you might want to make for your bazaar to insure its success.

If your favorite hobby is knitting, crocheting or sewing, you'll find that small items are best for bazaars. You can make them quickly and inexpensively and because of this you will be able to make several articles rather than one larger piece. And the articles you make can be sold for smaller amounts of money which is often a major sales inducement at such affairs. Of course, if you want to raise larger sums of money for your cause, you might want to contribute a hand crocheted tablecloth or bedspread that can be raffled off during the bazaar. The raffish will be popular because anyone would love to own such a handmade treasure.

Now's the time to get out the needles, crochet hooks and knitting needles. Invest in balls of thread, cotton or wool, and bits of gay yarn goods. Search out pretty bits of silks and laces tucked away in the scrap bag. These combined with nimble fingers, imagination, and a little spare time, will produce gifts that will prove to be popular attractions at your bazaar. There are ever so many things that combine beauty and usefulness which you can make. Linens

THE HOMEMAKERS

Pickle Time's Here

When it is cucumber time, it is time for making pickles. Cucumber pickles of various sorts are favorites with all Canadian families.

Generally, gherkins and nine-day pickles are made from a small type of cucumber which has a dark green skin and small seeds. If the cucumbers used are over 2 1/2" in length, they should be cut in half lengthwise. In making pickles using cucumbers, it is important that they be placed in cold water or a brine as soon as possible after picking to ensure success. Holding the cucumbers at room temperature for even a few hours may result in hollow centres.

Gherkins - Method 1
4 quarts small cucumbers
16 cups boiling water
2 cups salt
1 tsp. alum
16 cups boiling water
8 cups blended vinegar
6 cups sugar
1 tsp. celery seed
2 tsp. whole cloves

Wash the cucumbers, scrub well, rinse, drain well and place in a crock. Cover with hot brine made by combining 16 cups boiling water with the salt. Let stand 3 days. Drain cucumbers from brine, bring brine to boiling point, pour over cucumbers and again let stand 3 days. Repeat this and again let stand 3 days. Drain cucumbers and place in crock. Add alum to remaining 16 cups boiling water and pour over cucumbers. Let stand 6 hours, then drain and rinse thoroughly. Pack pickles into sterilized jars. Prepare pickle mixture by combining the vinegar, sugar and spices. Boil mixture for 5 minutes. Strain through cheesecloth and pour over pickles. Seal and store. Yield: approximately 4 quarts.

In pickle making, the type of vinegar used is an important factor. Blended vinegar which may be purchased in most retail stores or which may be made in the home by mixing equal parts of cider and white vinegar is recommended. The combinations of spices in the recipes may be varied according to personal taste.

The stronger sex is usually the weaker sex because of the strength the weaker sex has over the stronger sex; or is it because of the weakness of the stronger sex for the weaker sex?

During the week of August 19, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Collins of Sharon and Mrs. John Trehwella of Newmarket, were Capt. and Mrs. John W. Haines of Haddon Heights, N.J. The purpose of this visit was to make the acquaintance of their Canadian kin, the descendants of William Haines, Mary (Haines) Hollingshead, and their brother, Samuel, all of whom had been early settlers in Upper Canada. Samuel had obtained his land from the crown in 1806.

During the afternoon and evening of Thursday, Aug. 23, with Mrs. Charles E. Lewis and Mrs. Thomas Collins as co-hostesses, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Trehwella. Miss Mercy Barker presided at the tea table and was ably assisted by Miss Anna Lewis of Toronto, Miss Edith Haines of Sharon and the Misses Jean and Barbara Lewis of Newmarket.

The Canadian guests were delighted to meet these American relatives and were unanimous that these family reunions were worthwhile and expressed the hope that this Haines gathering might become an annual affair.

Speaking of his trip to Canada, Capt. Haines was much impressed by the scenic beauty of Ontario, particularly of York County. Capt. Haines was recently retired from the United States navy with which he had served previously and during the war.

HASH
BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

What a shock! What crust! Imagine Pine Orchard scramblers headed by Abner Boak and Banker Roberts, bumping off our favorites. So help me, you can't believe anybody these days.

Six guys from Keswick told me Keswick would win. What hurts is we lose our shirt and two of the chappies who tell us Keswick will win get a shirt. Yes sir, Keswick ladies' softball team gifted coach Gord Hare and Manager Jack Mundy with sport shirts to officially wind up the season. Those two are part of the half dozen who give us the inside info on Keswick winning. Where's our shirt?

Of course, we could rig up a few alibis for the Wick's ouster. Loss of playing coach Bill Stanyer and Alb. Smith hurt tremendously. In fact, they never quite recovered from the blow. We're telling you it's going to cost the teams folding stuff for us to put the hex on anybody so until it arrives (the dough) we're not even going to hazard a guess who'll win the pressure cooker series betwixt Boak-Roberts and Ches. Lunney's resurging "Blues" from Zephyr.

We took a thumping on Keswick but we're batting 500 to date. Triple Sevens came through as expected. Now if Andy Closs' Merchantmen win, we could lift our average to 666. Never did say, somebody tells us, who would win the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies League softball title. And we're keeping our nose out of it. The way the charges, counter-charges and protests have been flying about, the executive are liable to wind up with the championship.

Town League Dug-Outs: Well done, Triple Seven Cabmen. Everybody is saying "I told you so". Pitching counted in the big series. Bill "Joint" McComb held the ace hand over John "Fireballer" Sheddwick. In the finals, Joint whiffed 26 Specialties, Sheddwick 11 Triple Sevens. In the hit column over the three-game stretch, Cabmen out-belted the Neufeld-Boag-Top-ham men 21-15. Another interesting point is Cabmen had 13 extra base drives against two by the Specialties. In the fielding department, Specialties committed five against two by the high flying Cabbies. So you can see the Taxis had it as they strode comfortably through the season with only one loss marring their records.

Lights: Floods are all up now. It was a tough job but thanks to our volunteers, finished that part of the work Sunday. When do we light up? Wiring operations will be going forward this week. Give us a week or ten days, then maybe?

Who should have the honor of opening them? That's easy. Bell Telephone team. Without the unflinching efforts of the Bell Telephone Company employees, we could never have got along with the job. Of course, plan is to have one big grand official opener in the spring. What about this fall? Committee hopes to line up a double-header attraction of Triple Sevens versus Pine Orchard-Zephyr winners with Office Specialty matched against the losers.

In fact, if it isn't too late, why not a North York championship. King, Schomberg from Peel-York, Zephyr, Pine Orchard from the Lake Simcoe, Buttonville and Markham from Markham Township circuit, Triple Sevens, Office Specialty, local representatives and winners of Merchants-Ditch Diggers clash in the Aurora Town circuit. That should just about run us into the first run of the Spitfires on the gliders. That would aid the coffers of the floodlight fund and believe me, Chairman Van and assister Top say we can use the dough.

News Of
NEWMARKET LEGION

Nineteen scholarships, with a total value of $5,700, were given by the Canadian Legion Ontario Command recently. These scholarships are awarded annually, and the money is contributed by the many branches in Ontario. A few of the qualifications necessary are:

One of the parents must be a veteran; very high marks in a large number of subjects are definitely needed; consideration is given to students who may not be able to continue their education through lack of funds.

The committee who chose the Legion's scholarship winners this year were: Comrade Ab Hulse, Aurora, president of the Ontario Command; Col. T. Wilson, and Brig. C. B. Topp of Toronto, and Dr. W. J. Dunlap, of the University of Toronto. Under this Legion plan, students may go to any university of their choosing.

Comrade Tulloch reports that his committee needs extra help this week, picking up articles for the big Legion auction sale this Saturday at the arena. Phone Bill at 9111, and tell him when you will be over at the Legion hall to help.

This Saturday will be a big day for the Legion and the citizens of this community. Starting at 2 p.m. in the Newmarket arena, will be the auction sale, and it is interesting to note a few of the many, many articles to go under the hammer that day, include a case of pot cleaners, folding baby carriages, cases of snap hand cleaner, a case of Javex, enamel paint, all kinds of furniture, including a complete dining suite, a washing machine, cupboards, all kinds of table lamps, chairs, and even a dozen packages of chocolate Chipits. These are only a few of the many things to be sold. The sale is expected to end at 8 p.m., and at that time there will be a monster bingo held right there in the arena.

At the conclusion of the bingo,

Darkness Stalls Two Games
In P.O., Zephyr Lake Finals

Pine Orchard and Zephyr have met twice since their final set for the Lake Simcoe crown opened. Both teams burned up a pile of energy and what did it get them? Nothing! Both games were stalled before the regulation seven because of darkness and rain, and were ruled no contests.

The teams plan to start future games of the series at 6 p.m. Future schedule, reports President Ross Chapman, is: Friday, Sept. 14, Pine Orchard at Zephyr; Monday, Sept. 17, Zephyr at Pine Orchard; Wednesday, Sept. 19, Pine Orchard at Zephyr (fourth game); Friday, Sept. 21, Zephyr at Pine Orchard (fifth game if necessary).

In the supposed series opener last Friday Zephyr nursed an 11-8 lead into the seventh. Pine Orchard had two on and one out with Bill Dike up when darkness closed in and Umpire Joe Tunney ruled too dark.

In Monday's contest, Zephyr protected a slim 4-3 edge at the end of three, then rain and gloom settled down and Plate Umpire Cec. Carpenter said "that's all for tonight." Zephyr scored two in the first on a trio of walks as Ted Tidman was having control troubles, and Don Hewlett's single. The Blues tacked on a run in the second on a trio of walks and an infield out before Tidman straightened away.

Don Hewlett's triple in the third on ton of "Johnny" Meyers walk gave Zephyr their fourth run. Ron Kester, Zephyr's side-wheeler, was also having control trouble. A pair of walks to Josh Preston and Bill Dike, followed by Harry Brammer's and Howie Ash's singles, gave the Boakmen three runs in the third.

Tansley Wins
Two Straight,
King Protests

King softball hopes for an O.R.S.A. intermediate B championship were ended Friday. After a ten-day lay-over King opened in the third round against Tansley who ousted King in two straight.

King lost by an ever-so-tough-to-take 10-8 at Tansley and dropped an 11-3 decision before the cheers of their home fans Friday.

In the series opener King carried a 6-1 lead into the seventh before the bubble burst. Tansley came back with a nine run rush over last two frames to wrap up the decision. At home King were tailored for a trailer role from the start as the visitors ran in six runs in the fifth against Gord Orr. Phil Bobson coming in as a reliever had bet? ter luck stopping further Tansley run production.

Keith Kyle and Ted Rose led King in the hit department Friday with three for five. John Richard, as well as making the catch of the game, pounded out two hits and Jim Patton came up with a similar production. Harold Eaton was the visitors' ace, accumulating four hits.

King have filed a protest claiming illegal pitching by Tansley chucker Clarence Nixon.

King: J. MacDonald, K. Kyle, S. Foster, G. Orr, T. Rose, C. Shields, J. Richard, B. Gillies, P. Hobson, J. Patton, C. Armstrong, C. Archibald.

'Berg Loses First With Eramosa 10-2

Schomberg hopes for a repeat of their 1946 run to an O.R.S.A. intermediate title dimmed somewhat Tuesday. The Bergers, after disposing of Haliburton, received a bye in round two and drew Eramosa (near Guelph) as third round opposition.

"They really have a sharp team," reports Schomberg manager Pike Cabell, "we couldn't hold 'em. They beat us 10-2."

It was a nip and tuck ball game for seven frames. Schomberg counted a run in the first on Walt Thompson's single and Doug Brown's double. Murray Edwards belted a solid four-batter in the sixth for the Schomberg's second tally. Then the roof fell in on the Bergers as the visitors counted five runs in the seventh to walk off with the decision.

Swat Mason of Hamilton Tiger-Hocquet fame and Bill Slinger headed the visitors' hit corps. Murray Edwards, Walt Thompson and Doug Brown were the sunshine providers in the Schomberg camp. Ken Ellison despite the loss, came up with a well pitched game. The return game will be played in Guelph Friday, reports Pike Cabell.

Loop Ends With Surplus, To Pick All-Star Team

Town League treasurer Harold LaPlante turned in a very rosy financial report at a wind-up meeting Monday evening. The treasurer's report showed approximately $175 in the kitty. The teams voted to set aside $100 towards a banquet for all players on the six teams.

John Shedlowick, Specialty fire-baller, was named the league's most valuable player. Mickey Smith, Bell Telephone playing coach, won the batting championship. Both will receive the "Pop" Holmes Trophy.

It was decided to select an all-star team to play an outside team in aid of the floodlight fund. It is hoped to arrange this for Saturday afternoon at the Fair Grounds. All-star selections are: Chas. VanZant, Herb Cain, John Shedlowick, Bill McComb, Don Gibson, Bruce Andrews, Don Gibson, Mick Smith, Stan Evans, Fred Dillman, Grant Blight, Don Smith, Jerry Hugo, Bruce Townsley, Tod Mosier, Bill Hill, Laurie Thoms, Murray MacDonald, John Hisey, Bill Johnston, Joe Burke, Bill Smith, Norm Legge.

HASHMAN AWARD

A Ducat For Andrews

During the early Aurora Town league race Andy Closs' Merchants couldn't beg, borrow or steal a win. Then Closs signed Jack Andrews, a port-side flinger from the baseball ranks.

The Merchants, sparked by Andrew's pitching and his long ball slugging, immediately bumped off Harts "Diamonds" in the semis. Now the Merchants are tied in the finals due to some fancy left-hand twirling from the aforesaid Mr. Andrews. Last Thursday Jack hand-cuffed Mick Sutton's Ditch Diggers 7-3 on five hits and seven strike-outs.

That's why we are saying "well done, Lefty" by naming you Hashman award winner for this week and recipient of the Roxy Theatre pass.

Triple Seven Win Crown In Close Final Game

Triple Seven Taximen won the Town League three straight. Friday ended a handsome one-loss season on a 4-3 win over the Office Specialty. The Specialty out-hit the usually potent swinging Cabmen 8-6 and John Shedlowick outshaded "Joint" McComb on the mound.

If Stan Winger hadn't missed Bill McComb's rifle shot liner into left and Gord Cook had scooped up Bruce Townsley's infield scooter, the Taximen wouldn't have picked up two runs in the fourth on Art Dobbie's smash into left. Those two runs proved the deciding factor.

Another "if" concerns the Specialty's sixth. In turn John Shedlowick, Charlie VanZant and Don Gibson lined out singles. Shedlowick scored on Gibson's punch but Charlie VanZant was out by a country mile going from first to third. Gord Cook stroled and Don Burch pelted a double to score Gibson. Everybody is saying if Pete Neufeld Specialty third base coach hadn't held up Cookie, game would have been tied. Maybe? But hold 'em he did and Specialty fell one short of that important tying run as John Hisey hoisted to third to close out the budding rally.

Normie Legge powdered Shedlowick's first pitch for an inches inside the right field line round tripper. Alvie McKnight tripped and scored standing up on Hack Cain's run scoring fly out to right. Specialty got their first run in the fourth on a combination of John Shedlowick's double and Don Gibson's triple.

Needles to say the Specialty went down battling and the Cabmen were worthy champions. Newmarket taxi: N. Legge, A. McKnight, J. Hugo, H. Cain, H. Gibney, W. McComb, B. Townsley, A. Dobbie, W. Robinson, J. Baldson, D. Brice.

Office Specialty: T. Mosier, B. Andrews, J. Shedlowick, C. Van-

Newmarket Net Teams Enter Finals With Hill

Newmarket and Aurora Tennis clubs finished in a dead heat in the North York Tennis Club race, requiring a sudden death tie breaker here last Friday. Newmarket went to the finals by winning every match of the eight played. Newmarket now meets Richmond Hill for the league Championship. The finals are scheduled to be played at Aurora Tennis Club courts on Friday evening.

Results of Friday's matches were as follows with Newmarket players named first: Ladies doubles, Joyce Bothwell and Joan Peppiatt defeated Mary Adams and Betty Boulding, 6-2, 6-4; Margaret Davis and Lynn Hunter defeated June Adams and Mae Gerrow, 6-1, 6-0;

Men's doubles: Bob Yates and Keith Davis defeated Keith Nisbett and Frank Wims, 7-5, 6-4; Chas. Lee and Jack Peppiatt defeated Doug Wilson and Gord Grant, 6-2, 6-2;

Mixed doubles: Joan Peppiatt and Keith Davis defeated Betty Boulding and Keith Nisbett, 6-2; Joyce Bothwell and Bob Yates defeated Mary Adams and Frank Wims, 6-3; Margaret Davis and Chas. Lee defeated June Adams and Doug Wilson, 6-1; Lynn Hunter and Jack Peppiatt defeated Mae Gerrow and Gord Grant, 6-3.

Zant, D. Gibson, G. Cook, J. Hisey, D. Barber, S. Winger, H. Brammer.

Last Wednesday, Bill "Joint" McComb had the Office Specialty would-be-hitters blinking at his fast ball. Specialty got two hits—no runs—and The Triple Seven hung a 4-0 horse-collar on the Specialty.

Pin-Ups Take Sutton In Last Ditch Effort

Fred Dillman's Pin-ups finally hexed Sutton ladies Monday night in a replay sudden-death tilt at Queensville. In a tension packed finish, Newmarket eased out an 11-10 win.

In the last of the seventh, Newmarket trailed 10-9, Betty McArthur strolls, Isabel Rogers strikes out, Roxy West, pinch hitting, loops a hit over short. Betty McArthur goes to third and Roxy second. Joan Robinson whiffs at a third strike. Sutton catcher Rita Riddell drops the ball and heaves wildly over first. Both the Pin-ups score and it's the ball game and series for the Pin-ups.

It was a mighty nice win for the Pin-ups as the supposedly two out of three set with the lady Greensoxs stretched into a six game series. Newmarket will now meet Mount Albert for the league title. First home game for the Pin-ups Friday. Third game at Newmarket on Monday.

O.B.A. Opposition Set Lose To Leaside 6-3

Newmarket Optimist bantams will face Richmond Hill in the first round of the O.B.A. The series will get underway at the Fair Grounds before press time and arrangements for the return game will be made at that time.

The Optimist pee-wees have drawn Ajax in first round in the O.B.A. Playing dates for this series have not been announced yet.

The Optimist bantams met Leaside Saturday evening and lost 6-3. Newmarket trailed 6-0 when pinch hitters Nick Styke and Chas. VanZant came in and went down swinging. Jack Hamilton and Morley Hunter singled and Laurie VanZant, a regular, pounded out a terrific home-run belt that plated three runs.

TO WRESTLE TONIGHT

Main bout attraction tonight in Newmarket's third wrestling card will be Yukon Eric, the bone-crusher out of the far north, and the Ozark mountain man, Ski-Hi-Lee. Pat Flanagan, a Toronto favorite tackles badman Steve Stanlee in the semi-final bout. Dan O'Connor pairs off with Bill Stack in 30-minute preliminary bout. The three-bout card opens at 9 p.m.

777 VS ALL-STARS

The injured players fund game will be played Monday night at the Fair Grounds. Triple Sevens will take on the stars selected from the other five town league teams. Game time 6:30 p.m.

Diggers, Merchants Tied In Aurora Town Finals

Merchants and Ditch Diggers have won a game each in the series for the Aurora Town League crown. Andy Closs' surging Stouffville-Merchants won 7-3 in the first game. Though Ditch 8-4 in game two, the Ditch Diggers made every bingle count to ease out an 8-6 win over the Merchies to tie the set.

In the series opener the Merchants cropped the bulk of their runs on four-base smashes by Jack Andrews, Ron Simmons and a two-run scoring double whacked by Tommie Brodie. The Merchants cashed three runs in the fourth and four in the fifth to salt it away. Jack Andrews threw five-hit ball. Only once were the Diggers able to put two hits together in any frame, in the fourth, and coupled with an error, cropped two runs. Jimmy Emmons with three and Ron Simmons with two set the winners' pace. Bob Turan and Tracy Barrager filed two hits each to spark the Ditch Diggers.

In game two, the Diggers took full advantage of four walks, an error and Bob Turan's double — as Jack Andrews couldn't find the plate with his southpaw slants — to grab a four-run edge in the first. They upped it three in the third on a pair of walks and Bill Hammond's double. Merchants made their bid in the sixth. They trailed 8-2 at this point, as Paul Knowles and Dick Ferguson both socked doubles, Jimmy Emmons singled to plate three runs and added a single in the seventh on Andy Closs Jr.'s triple and an error. It ended 8-6 as Mick Sutton on Diggers' mound tightened with runners on the base-ways.

Temper flared briefly as Jack Andrews talked himself out of the game in the fourth for going after base-umpire Harry Sutton. Paul Knowles turned in a creditable relief chore. Harold Stephenson, Diggers' fancy dan receiver, had to leave with a possible fractured finger with Tracy Barrager taking over the mask-work and doing it well. Jimmy Emmons and Dick Ferguson were Merchants' top swingers with two each. Roy Allen, Bill Mundell, Bob Turan and Bill Hammond accumulated Diggers' four safeties.

Hot Stove League Gathering

Summer Symphony about ended and Fall Follies about to take its place. Softball, which has reigned as King for months now, just about ready for mothballs although those fellows in the Lake Simcoe circuit and the Rural Playdowns keep prolonging it. Newmarket Flood-lights may get baptism as Zephyr-Pine Orchard battle it out with old man darkness ruling the roost.

Buttontown, back for their sixth straight championship in the Markham Township league, with some great pitching by Normie Stunden and Jack Runney, and against some great hurling by Markham's Peggy O'Neil whose support faltered. Series went seven games. Buttontown ousted Thornhill from the O.S.A. playdowns and now await further action.

Elgin Mills ladies win the North Yonge title in a repeat performance featuring the Mabey Sisters. It was the second title for the Richmond Hill suburb, the men having won the Vaughan crown with Teddy Bennett's masterful performance. King City were really in the bridesmaid class, led the Peel-York loop all year, but saw Schomberg move from third to take the pennant. In the rural playdowns, they ousted Eagle Lake after a long trip, and caught off balance, were surprisingly eliminated by Tansley. (In answer to a query, Tansley is in Halton County and the travelling wasn't very far). Schomberg still in the rural playdowns and Coach Al Stephenson, former Aurora boy, wishes to pay tribute to Art Moody of the constabulary who has pinch-hit as mastermind a good part of the season. Ditch-Diggers took the lead Tuesday night 8-8 in the Aurora Town League finals but Andy Closs sez it can't be done again and his boys will take it over the seven game route.

Cookstown made it two straight in the South Simcoe circuit with Harry Coss pitching four wins and losing one. In the second game, Coss was driven from the box and relieved by Lloyd Hughes. Next three games, he fogged them by Fenel's as if nothing had happened. A wonderful season for a swell guy.

Midland eliminated Cookstown in the Simcoe County championships while their arch-rivals from Fenel's are County finalists, awaiting a winner between Midland and Barrie.

Did you notice that Cecil Brown, who used to pitch for No. 23 B.T.C. Newmarket, hurled Prince of Wales of the Dovercourt loop to the finals of the C.N.E. senior "B" group. "Cease-Fire", who is in the mid-30's, can still do a fine job. P.O.W. are leading in a T.S.A. play-off against Pyrenes of the Davisville league.

Bill Sherwood is the new champion of the Aurora Highlands club. The former Newmarket resident took George Thompson in the finals of the Jarvis shield four and three over the 36 hole trail. Sherwood played steady golf all the way, but a sizzling 35 on the first nine gave him a three hole advantage he never relinquished. So far this is the only championship decided at Highlands and the dandies and dolls had better get it all squared away soon while there's weather and light. Saturday, the club will play Lakeview Golf and Country in an inter-club match at Aurora. Twenty-eight of the club's best went to Port Credit a few weeks ago under Captain George Thompson and came back winners. This Saturday's matches will be worth seeing.

Art Kneeshaw of Bradford has some good news for all curlers and would-be curlers of the district. Bradford Curling Club will function on Artificial Ice this winter to late spring. Five sheets of ice will be available for the boys atop the big Bradford refrigeration plant on the outskirts of the Village and playing conditions and facilities will be the best. Roy Dixon of Bond Head is president of the group and Art is secretary, and the first 200 to apply will be able to curl this winter. The fee has been fixed at $30 for the season and we suggest you move pronto if you wish to be included. Those behind the plan are to be congratulated for their enterprise. As a matter of fact there's no reason the artificial ice plants at both Aurora and Newmarket can't accommodate curling once a week at least.

You can mark it down as better than a prognostication that there will be One Hockey Team For One Risk this winter, with Newmarket taking the senior-intermediate series and Aurora carrying the junior torch. You can also mark it down that while the T.H.L. teams are clamouring for early ice, and practice time can be easily sold, that after this year, the additional new artificial plants in or adjacent to Toronto, plus those outdoor park sheets, will pretty well handle the Toronto situation. The T.H.L. was a saviour financially for Aurora last winter and it's time some long-range program was mapped out for all the arenas of the area.

As one Aurora sportman said, "I didn't support artificial ice and I'm not paying my taxes towards the rink to supply Toronto boys with skating time. The hockey isn't worth seeing, and they'll monopolize all the time they can get at the expense of the local kids."

Andy Closs, busy with his surprising Town softballers, is getting "hoisted-up" about hockey as the pro teams head for their camps and artificial ice at Aurora is but three weeks away. Paul McGuire will definitely be a candidate for the Aurora goal job this winter. Paul, who played with Aurora two winters ago when the club went to the finals, was with Lindsay last winter. He's in his final year of junior and he'll add strength to the team. If Newmarket doesn't play junior, as appears almost certain, Aurora will go "Can." If they have opposition from Can-town, chances are they'll stick to "D" as they have a nice little club all ready for action. Let's see now, for goal: Paul McGuire, Ron Starkey, Tommy Hulme and Weedon of Nobleton, who is really Aurora property. No telling who'll play defence or forward as the boys are growing up but Red Boyle, Walt Fines, Bob Cook, Grant Winters, Andy Closs, "Speed" Munshaw, Stew Wilson, Grant Edwards, Ross Collins, Artie Barber and Blondie Clayton are available, and Chris Wansborough, if he returns to St. Andrew's, will also be on hand.

There's as possibility that Ed. Williams and Rex Bailey of the Bears will be out and perhaps Bill Smith too. Charlie Rowntree will likely bring a good part of the Nobleton club, all local boys, with him. If the Newmarket boys are added to that club, you can see a "C" championship as a possibility. Big problem will be grouping and a return to both team and the arena over the regular schedule. The play-offs, of they materialize, naturally look after themselves. Well, it won't be long now until we know the answer.

WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE, CANADIAN LEGION B.E.S.L. No. 426

Council Is So Bamboozled Over Its Own By-Law That It Asks Solicitor's Help

At the council meeting on September 4 proceedings began at 8 and finished just after midnight. Another four hours of talking with nothing definite to show for it, except two or three things of a disagreeable and regrettable character. In the latter department was the resignation of Mrs. Helen Dickson, a most likeable and experienced business woman, who was discharging her duties as deputy town clerk with great efficiency.

Mrs. Dickson resigned because her husband is taking up a position in Aylmer. She generously agreed to stay on until her successor had been installed. Mr. Dickson is leaving Aurora to better his position. It is a rather sad commentary on the way things are managed here that no effort appears to have been made to retain him.

He has done so much fine work here that one would have supposed that the town council, on hearing of his likelihood of leaving, would have called a special meeting to enquire into the whole circumstances. But not a word has been spoken in council in our hearing of his impending departure. "Nobody has asked: 'Why is Tom Dickson leaving?'" Nobody on council, that is.

Talking About Nothing

Deputy-reeve Murray remarked in the course of discussion on September 4 that council "often talked a long time on nothing." His comment was made while he was dealing with building infractions, and some attempt was made to scuttle the argument. "Let's talk about something that matters," said Murray, "we often talk a long time on nothing."

This drifting on the waters of loquacity could be steered if council had a chairman equal to the job in hand. There is nothing business-like about the present council, which is reaching a new low in drifting. Mayor Bell as chairman often reminds us of a man in a boat without oars, who has been carried out to sea and must just trust to lucky currents for his getting back to shore. To vary the metaphor, he usually "makes it" at the midnight hour when somebody moves "that we adjourn."

This council lacks direction from the chair, and, lacking direction, just drifts on through the usual four hours of talking. "Move that we adjourn, Mr. Mayor." It is usually Councillor Corbett who says that. It seems to ease the situation, like a man having an aching tooth drawn. Indeed, members of council spring from their chairs with an eagerness that suggests they have all gotten rid of an aching tooth.

Petitioners Present

The petitioners opposing the proposed location of the Garfat company were back again, with Mr. L. P. Evans as flag-bearer. Mayor Bell threw the ball at Mr. Evans; but Mr. Evans threw the ball back at the mayor. He said he had had his turn, now it was the mayor's. So the mayor called on Mr. W. Garfat to open the discussion.

Mr. Garfat is a likeable and pleasant man. He has a pleasant manner. Added to all that he displays the possession of a clever head. A successful man, his success can be understood. He assembles his arguments easily and effectively. He knows what he has to say and can say it with conviction.

He described many details of his projected new plant, and assured his listeners that its modern setup would be a guarantee against the risks of odors. He could foresee no objections to his new plant, which he hoped would provide employment for a payroll of 75 persons.

These assurances did not, however, satisfy Mr. Evans and those whom he represented, numbering 127 petitioners. They did not want the plant in the vicinity of their homes, and Mr. Evans later reminded the mayor that when a majority of residents voted against the installation of any industry in their midst it was a veto upheld by planning board regulations.

That was, of course, a tough argument for the mayor, who has been a chieftain in the defence of planning boards. Mayor Bell made no come-back on that hard nut, finally assuring the petitioners that nothing would be done at present. We don't think anybody knows at present what will happen. Like a lot of other things, it is lying around on the table.

Where Did By-law Come From?

We had supposed that the Land Use By-law, No. 1051, passed on March 20, 1950, by the town council, was a home product. Judging from the discussion at the September 4 council meeting it seems that nobody is sure where it originated. One member of council said it had been made up from material supplied from Ottawa.

This is the by-law that has caused so much trouble among home-builders in Aurora. After all this time members of council are not agreed on what some of

Mr. William Large made application for a building permit for a garage, and this council refused on a majority vote. It seems a strange thing if a man cannot build a garage on his own land.

Deputy-reeve Murray lashed out in forcible fashion against discrepancies in the building by-law. He said all hadn't been treated equally. He said that council itself should be instructed on the meaning of the land-use by-law by the town solicitor.

When Jim Murray gets going he's like a terrier on a bone. He goes after the mayor as though he were the bone; and try as he will the mayor just can't shake Murray off. Mr. Murray is a mild-mannered man; but he is about the toughest handful in council at the present time.

Solicitor To Explain

Deputy-reeve Murray charged that council didn't understand its own Land Use building by-law, and this was the beginning of a discussion which broke council up into little debating groups. A copy of the by-law was brought to the council table and the outcome of the wordy tangle was a motion moved by Councillor Fielding and seconded by Councillor Gundy and carried as follows: "That the by-laws committee and the town solicitor have a meeting to interpret the land-use by-law and report such interpretation to council."

Just try and think what such an admission of fatuity means. Here is a building by-law which has been in force since March 20, 1950, and which has been applied to home-builders, and now, in September 1951, council admits that the town solicitor has to be called in to interpret it.

Where will the town solicitor start at his task of interpretation? By the time the "interpretation" is ended it may be found that what council thought was right may be proved all wrong, and vice versa. There's a pretty kettle of fish! A by-law that has been in operation since March 20, 1950, and a year and six months later the town solicitor is called in to "interpret" it.

Beat that one if you can for sheer ineptitude and bungling.

Solicitor Asks Instruction

In our previous "Council Sidelights" we made a brief reference to one of the briefest council motions on record: "That an anti-noise by-law be prepared." This time it was the town solicitor himself who asked for an "interpretation." He wanted something specific on which to write a by-law. The solicitor's request didn't surprise us.

Where are you going to start with an anti-noise by-law? Would a barking dog constitute an offence? Or a noisy transport vehicle rolling past the council chambers while council is in session? And would all traffic on Yonge street have to cease while council was sitting? Small wonder the solicitor asked for specific instructions?

Council is going to try and find an anti-noise by-law in the archives of some other municipality, and no doubt have it copied out. Meanwhile all they need to do is to ask a town constable to stop the young motorcyclists racing to and fro along Yonge street, and the danger of pedestrians, and at the same time put an end to the noisy talkers who congregate inside the municipal chambers before and after they have come in as delegations. Often one cannot hear what councillors are saying.

A Correction

Whether through noise or inaudibility we cannot say, but in our report of council last week we said that the motion by Councillor Fielding, seconded by Councillor Corbett, requesting that the hydro commission state what had been done in carrying out council's order to reconstruct its new building in accordance with regulations, was carried.

We erred in stating that the motion was carried. In the subsequent discussion that followed, the motion was not put from the chair, and for reasons which we fail to understand. The mover and seconder of the motion did not withdraw it, and our notes led us into the belief that it was carried.

In making this correction, which no one has asked us to do but which we recognize we ought to do, we have to add this: That we think it would have been to the credit of council to have passed the motion. Thus for council's credit, as well as our own credit for strict accuracy, we regret that such a

ANOTHER UNSIGNED REPORT

On our application, we received from the town hall a financial statement for the year ending December 31, 1950. It bears the title: "The Corporation of the town of Aurora financial statements for the year ended December 31, 1950."

There are some ten unnumbered mimeographed pages and additional addenda, none of which is supported by any signatures. On the face of it, it would appear that nobody is ready to accept responsibility for the financial statements since nobody has signed them. It seems an unusual way of publishing accounts, to omit authorizing signatures.

It so happens that we have been looking through a financial statement of the town of Aurora for the period beginning December 15, 1929 and ending December 15, 1930. That financial statement bears the authorizing names of P. M. Thompson, mayor, and J. G. McDonald, treasurer. That, we think, is the correct way for such things to be done.

The statement issued under the authority of the late P. M. Thompson, mayor, and the late J. G. McDonald, treasurer, covers 27 printed pages and gives in itemized detail all income and expenditure for the period concerned in a way that any intelligent taxpayer can understand.

Why cannot the same methods be used today? Presumably the finance committee of the town council, the chairman of which is councillor Pringle, would be the responsible authority in deciding in what manner the town's financial statements are to appear.

Councillor Pringle did not sign the report, nor the mayor or the town treasurer. We submit that the report should have been confirmed by an authorizing authority.

NO COMPLIANCE YET

Council was informed at its meeting on September 4 that a copy of the motion instructing the hydro commission to reconstruct its new building in accordance with regulations had been sent out to the commission. At this date of writing there has been no compliance with council's order.

On the contrary, since council's motion was passed, further building has been carried on in the completion of the offending structure, whose leaning body suggests the condition of a man with too much hard liquor inside him. If we ever saw an ugly-looking building the new hydro edifice is just that.

Deputy-reeve Murray said at the September 4 council meeting that he had been told that the hydro commission had no intention of altering the building, and that it would remain as it was, faults and all. We can only hope that such a report is not founded in fact. Artistically objectionable as the building is, the situation would be worse if there were any intention of defying an order from council.

The granting of a building permit does not include the right to lower the amenities of neighbors or to ignore building regulations. Yet as matters stand the hydro building includes both of these offences. Its ugly slant to the east destroys the fine line of Mosley street looking from Yonge; it protrudes beyond the fronts of the immediate homes; and it violates building regulations by over-reaching the town line and the sidewalk.

There appears to have been no checkup while the building was, in course of erection, instancing neglect on somebody's part. It will be interesting to see how long it will be until the hydro commission obeys the directive of the town council to reconstruct its offending structure.

"IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE"

Under the above title we propose to write a series of articles which will, we believe, reflect the will of the majority of voters in Aurora in regard to the present town council. A Main street merchant, born and bred in Aurora, said a few days ago: "This is the weakest council Aurora has had in years."

During 1950 we sat through every meeting of council. With the exception of Councillors Fielding and Gundy, the same members are in office today. Deputy-reeve Harry Corner retired and Councillor Murray took his place. The two new members of council, and the promotion of Mr. Murray, represent the only changes in the council of 1950.

We have attended all meetings of council during 1951, except for two meetings during the month of April, which was no fault of ours. We were not aware that certain newspaper eggs were in process of hatching, and learned only later that the old birds had been nesting in concealment for a considerable time.

When the hatching-time was over and the cackling ended, we returned to report council in circumstances of no little surprise to the old birds and we have regularly attended all subsequent meetings. More and more it has become apparent that another change is needed, this time in the personnel of council itself.

The most important change will have to take place at the head of the council table. If Aurora is to have good government it will, first of all, have to get good leadership. Drifting will have to cease and talk give way to action. These matters we propose to explore in future articles, in support of our belief that "It's time for a change."

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Four Aurora Competitors Win C.N.E. Music Awards Parks Need Notice-Boards

The Aurora recreation commission has issued for publication its financial statement authorized under the signatures of Don Glass, chairman, and Mrs. Helen Dickson, secretary-treasurer. The report will be found in another column. It shows a very satisfactory state of affairs and provides proof of the good government exercised by the commission.

In an introductory statement in the report, the commission points out that the situation is now clarified in respect of the municipal and provincial grants. In 1948 a provincial grant of $404.07 was received; in 1949 the amount was $553.81. The 1950 grant is listed in the 1951 receipts.

In gratefully acknowledging financial support received from numerous sources, the statement points out that this "has greatly aided us in our efforts to provide a sound and active recreation program for the children and the young folk of our town."

There was a largely-attended meeting of the commission on Thursday night, September 7, when many recreation matters were dealt with. One outstanding feature was the announcement that Mr. Tolman will begin the art classes immediately, with a panel of 18 students from the public school.

Mr. John Offord was appointed recreation commission representative on the arena commission, to replace Mr. T. F. Swindle who resigned in circumstances already fully reported in Aurora News Page.

C.N.E. Prize Winner

Congratulations to Mrs. Murray Young of Willowdale, the former Lorraine Fierheller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fierheller, who was a successful prize-winner in the lyric soprano class of 27 contestants at the Canadian Exhibition. She was a student under Mr. Illyd Harris. Mrs. Young was a close runner-up in the $500 scholarship class. She is now a pupil of Dr. Vinci of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Corner and Miss Ruth Corner are home again after a Canadian tour of 3,500 miles, which we reported recently in Aurora News Page. They have been away for three weeks and enjoyed a very delightful vacation.

Mr. Corner reports one hair-raising incident near Cape Breton where they just missed a heavy landslide that rolled down from the mountains, blocking the road over which they were travelling.

The vacation appears to have improved the quality of Harry's lawn bowling, for he was exhibiting unusual skill in finding the jack the other evening.

The McMahon Park

The weeds have been cut down again and left to stay where they fell. We saw Dr. Malcolm, mayor of squirrel town, racing over the rubble the other day. It could be that he is exercising himself in readiness for the inaugural meeting of his council which is shortly to take place, and which we hope to report.

The McMahon park was presented to Aurora by the late John McMahon, who resided at 50 Wellington street, and was an inspector on the C.P.R. for many years. He was a great friend of Sir John A. MacDonald and correspondence from the latter is treasured by an Aurora citizen.

This is Miss Anna Smith, a niece of the late Mr. McMahon, who resides in her uncle's former home, and is well-known to the many patrons of the White-law store, where she gives part-time daily assistance.

We think that the donors of these town parks should be honored in memory by suitable signboards placed where the citizens can see to whom they owe them. It would need a lot of money to buy either the Mosley or the McMahon park today. Yet they are of the greatest service to the town.

Generous Gifts

In the Willis store the other day we observed the large and jovial figure of a well-known member of a well-known Aurora family, none other than W. H. (Bill) Case. Mr. Case told us he was somewhat under the weather, but you'd never have guessed it from his healthy appearance.

He had just come from Newmarket where he had attended a presentation of $265 to Women's Aid of the York County hospital. The acting committee was composed of the following members: Mrs. Frank Hope, Mrs. Dorothy Bowman, Mrs. Arlie Armstrong, Mrs. Moffatt and Mr. Case.

This money was part of the proceeds of the second annual garden party of the York North P. C. held in Sharon temple grounds on Saturday, June 23, when an amount of $265 remained after donations had been made to Newmarket Band and the York Pioneer Historical Society.

Mrs. Fred Moffatt made the presentation of the $265, which was to be used for the purchase of a resuscitating machine for the York County hospital.

Aurora News Page To Have Headquarters In Doan Hall Built By First Postmaster

We have good news for readers of Aurora News Page, whose numbers are increasing week by week. We shall at an early date be opening an office in a spacious room in one of Aurora's historic houses, formerly the home built by the late Charles Doan and now the property of Dr. Watson. This is "Doan Hall" on Yonge street, next door to the Bank of Montreal.

Charles Doan became Aurora's first postmaster in the year 1846. For a time he resided in Aurora's oldest house, originally a log cabin, built in the year 1759. He had his post-office there also. This is the house on Catherine avenue, facing Yonge street.

Leading Aurora citizen, Charles Doan was his first reeve when the village was incorporated in the year 1863. He lived to be over 90 years of age and when he died was succeeded as postmaster by his son, David Doan. Named "Aurora"

Charles Doan is remembered as a remarkable man. An inveterate student of the stars, it was he who gave Aurora its name. Originally a hamlet founded by a small group of English settlers (as was the case in the founding of Thornhill), it was first known as Matchville. Later the name was changed to Machell's Corners, to honor a well-known builder of that time, Henry Machell.

There are at least two Aurora old-timers who vividly remember Charles Doan. One of them worked in his office. He was often heard to say how he had brought about the change in name from Machell's Corners to Aurora. The change had to do in part with his great interest in the Aurora Borealis, especially "Aurora" which, translated from the Greek, Eos, means the goddess of Dawn.

The postmasters of the period of Charles Doan had great powers of recommendation. Many villages and towns in Canada derived their names from their first postmasters. Nearby Nobleton and Lloydton are cases in point. In due time Charles Doan recommended that "Machell's Corners" be changed to "Aurora." The recommendation was adopted and Aurora it was; a name that is likely to endure through the years.

Pride In Location

We have a sense of pride in occupying a room that once resounded to the resolute footsteps of Charles Doan. It is an invigorating thought to work in a room of a home built by such a sturdy and indomitable man. A house that is indeed a landmark in the town to which he gave its name.

Unlike him, we may not have either the time or the inclination to study the stars or the Aurora Borealis; but we shall, with health and strength, have both the time and the inclination to study the course of the star, Aurora News Page, and resolutely try to make its columns worthy of the town for which they are written.

A wedding of local interest was held in Trinity United church, Toronto, on September 6, when Peter King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee King, Toronto, formerly of Aurora, and Florence Lew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bak Hoo Lew, Vancouver, were united in marriage. The bride and groom are surrounded by the bride's attendants, Margaret Howe, Toronto, Etta King, sister of the groom, and Betty Lew, Vancouver, maid of honor.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville
TWO EVENINGS

Delightful things and times have some times a touch of sadness like a dark thread running through a golden fabric, we know it's there, but it gives emphasis to the brightness.

This touch of sadness was felt by the members of Trinity United Church Senior Choir, when, on Thursday evening last at the close of our first practice of the season we adjourned to the spacious kitchen for refreshments and also for another reason of which I wish to speak.

Twenty-nine of us gathered round the long table so prettily arranged by Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Cody and Mrs. Hicks and after discussing doughnuts and coffee and settling the affairs of the nations there came a lull filled with expectancy.

Whereupon your scribe, in her capacity of secretary, rose and proceeded to read a short address of appreciation and friendly good will to the member who, as youth and love decree, is leaving us to become the bride of Don Cockburn, making him the richer, but leaving us to lament the loss of Lois Blight's fine voice and cheery presence. It also leaves us minus a president! During the address, our vice president, Larry Hicks, came forward and presented Lois with the choir gift—a silver bread tray.

In a very neat little speech Lois spoke of the pleasure she had had in her choir work, of Mr. Hurle's fine leadership — she hoped he'd enter the competition again — and thanking us warmly, she invited us all to visit her in her new home—not all at once. With the singing of "For she's a jolly good fellow" the evening came to a close, in a spirit of choir fellowship. The social part of the evening served two purposes — honor Lois and to give an added welcome to various new members whom we are delighted to have with us.

Two Showers
One shower was given by Joyce McMullen for Lois Blight, the other was provided by nature for its own particular purpose. Into a room, pleasantly filled with friends and beautifully decorated with huge white bells and pink and white streamers came Lois looking charming in a blue gown to which was added a lovely pink corsage. She was placed under a bouquet of gaily colored balloons which had an uncanny habit of exploding at intervals and showering — here's another shower — confetti down upon her curls.

Gaily wrapped boxes of every shape and size were piled up about her and when the opening of the gifts was over Lois was all dressed up like a gift package herself, with ribbons and surrounded by mountains of paper.

Being rescued from this pleasant confusion, she expressed her thanks for the many varied and beautiful and useful gifts which had been showered upon her.

Over cups of coffee and all the delicious things which accompanied them, we enjoyed a little visit with Lois and then, out into a downpour which turned the streets into rivers, and where it looked as if there were street lights below the rivers of water as well as above. We all hope that life will continue to shower Lois with many good things.

YOUNG - BROWN

Against a background of colorful gladioli, a double-ring ceremony was performed in King United church on Saturday afternoon, September 8, by Rev. M. R. Jenkinson, when June Marie Brown, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Brown, became the bride of John Wilbert Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norval Young, Downsview. Miss Ruby Cushman played the wedding music and before the ceremony, Mrs. Harry Self sang, "Through the Years" and "I'll Walk Beside Thee", during the signing of the register. The ushers were Fred Brown, the bride's brother, and Gordon Young, brother of the groom.

Given away by her father, the bride was lovely in white lace over taffeta, made with a bodice jacket with Peter-Pan collar and long sleeves. A bouffant tulle overskirt fell into a short train and her fingertip tulle veil fell from a lace Juliet cap accented with feathers. She carried an ivory prayer book with a corsage of gardenia and white mums. Her only ornament was a gold lover's knot necklace worn by her mother on her wedding day.

Carol Brown, a friend of the bride, as maid of honor, wore canary yellow. Mrs. Lester Brown, the bride's sister-in-law, and Audrey Collins, the groom's cousin, were bridesmaids wearing blue. Their ballerina taffeta costumes were styled with high neckline, butterfly sleeves and net overskirts. They wore sweetheart net picture hats and carried cascades of gladioli and chrysanthemums. The groom's twin brother, William Young was groomsmen.

The reception for 75 guests was held at the home of the bride's brother, Lorne Brown, of Doncrest Road, Langstaff. The bride's mother received in navy sheer, with navy and pink accessories and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother assisted in wine crepe, harmonizing accessories and corsage of pink roses. The happy couple motored north to Huntsville and other points for their honeymoon, the bride travelling in a rust wool suit, green Robin Hood hat, green and rust accessories and white gardenia corsage. Upon their return the couple will reside in an apartment at Downsview awaiting the completion of a new home the groom is building.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierce of London, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hounsome of Cookstown, relatives of the groom. Other guests were present from Toronto, Downsview, and Vaughan township.

JORRITSMA — WOODWARD

Jeanne Isabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Woodward, Ravenshoe, and Mr. Pier Jorritsma, Brampton, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Jorritsma, Workum, The Netherlands, were united in marriage at Ravenshoe United church on September 8. Rev. E. Campbell officiated. Mrs. A. Cowieson was organist and Miss Joyce Porter soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a period gown of ivory satin with train, her long veil caught to a coronet of pearls. She carried a horseshoe bouquet of sweetheart roses. Mrs. Verna Davies, the matron of honor, chose aqua chintilly lace and crepe, and the bridesmaid, Mrs. Mary Moroughan, pink chintilly lace and crepe. Both attendants carried nosegays of roses and gladioli in pastel shades. Mr. Arthur Moroughan was best man and Mr. Doug. Leitch was the usher.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where her mother received in green chintilly lace and taffeta. For travelling to Honey Harbor, Georgian Bay, the bride chose a blue gabardine suit with blue velvet accessories and corsage of white carnations. They will reside in Brampton.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. M. Woodward, Calgary, Alta., was present and other guests were from London, Pottawawa and Bob's Lake.

Child's Memories Stay

Teddy, five years old, has some sad, though pleasant, memories of three years past.

It was three years ago that Teddy's grandmother died; yet, his companionship with her has left an indelible impression. Teddy and his grandmother were almost inseparable during his first two years — then suddenly she was gone — but Teddy has never forgotten her.

Although Teddy's parents have never talked before him of certain incidents connected with his grandmother, they are continually being surprised by remarks he makes regarding her.

For instance, Teddy wanted a certain cupboard with doors and drawers. He was very insistent because it was "like grandmother's". There was no denying that it was before the remodeling was done three years ago.

Just recently, telling a friend about the garden, Teddy said there were more weeds than beans. Then, almost as if he were dreaming, he said, "Every day grandmother and I used to go to the garden and pull the weeds."

There's no way of knowing just what incidents and experiences in a child's life will leave lasting impressions. A child, such as Teddy, who has the faculty of recalling at five years of age experiences he had at two years of age, is somewhat of a rarity. Nevertheless, when events are continually refreshing the child's memory of an earlier experience, it is not unusual for a five year old to refer to a two-year-old experience. With the passing of years, some events of seemingly major proportions fade completely, while mere seemingly trivialities are remembered in detail.

Parents and teachers and all who are associated with children in any capacity are helping to mold the minds of these children. It is important to realize that the child is very much aware and in the state of absorbing ideas during the pre-school years so his early education is the responsibility of his parents.

New Headquarters

Besides the stimulating memory of the pioneering Charles Doan, we shall recall also that not far from our location there was in past years the office and publishing quarters of a very successful Aurora weekly newspaper called "The Aurora Borealis," with its accompanying headline which said "Let There Be Light." Light in hidden places.

Under the able editorship of the late A. F. Stevenson, the lively "Aurora Borealis" played an effective part in the life of Aurora over a period of many years. Its advertising pages provided proof of the confidence placed in it by local merchants, while its news and editorial columns were bright, breezy and original, and completely free from idiosyncrasies and "brass hat" quirks and capers.

It is exceedingly pleasant to be able to record that a daughter of the proprietor of the "Aurora Borealis," Dr. Alberta M. Cross, of Toronto, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of her wedding on September 6, and a son, Mr. Ashton G. Stevenson, who achieved wide fame in the United States for his inventions for linotype and intertype machines, still survive their versatile father, a popular Aurora figure some 60 years ago.

It has been our own personal pleasure to receive from Dr. Cross and Mr. Ashton Stevenson very encouraging letters concerning our writings here in Aurora.

What We Stand For
Aurora News Page will be as much a local weekly newspaper as was its predecessor, the "Aurora Borealis." Through its existence we shall contribute to local payments of rent and taxes. Aurora News Page will be concerned exclusively with Aurora. What we stand for is the presentation of news and comment directly concerned with local activities.

Since the institution of Aurora News Page, as part of the Era and Express, sales of the paper have been increasing week by week. Our Aurora mailing list has been considerably increased while our sales at news-stands in Aurora have greatly advanced. These advances have been made during the summer season, when all newspaper circulation falls off.

It is not our practice to use big startling headlines. Big headlines take up newspaper space without giving any useful service to readers. What we are concerned with is news and opinion on news. The Era and Express has an audited circulation.

That is the way which we propose to continue our work on Aurora News Page. We believe we should tell our readers what they ought to know without fear or favor. We fear nobody and will favor nobody. But we shall strive always to be fair and honest in any criticisms we have to make. That, we think, is a good yardstick for anyone to follow.

We shall shortly move our typewriter to Doan Hall, Yonge street, which will be our headquarters. Charles Doan gave this town its name. We shall do our best to provide an Aurora News Page worthy of his town.

N.H.A. DESIGN-OF-THE-MONTH

This popular bungalow design has many features to attract a prospective house-builder who is interested in modern comfort, sleek lines and luxury touches in a three-bedroom house. It would be suitable in either a suburban setting or a narrow residential lot in the city.

The most interesting points of the living room are the large stone fireplace and the wide expanse of window overlooking the surrounding patio. The dining room and kitchen are well-planned and aimed towards convenience and efficiency in house-keeping.

Bedrooms are all equipped with sufficient closet space and located conveniently near the bathroom. The basement may be reached either directly from the back door, which is adjacent to the kitchen, or from the center of the house.

This comfortable home is 28 feet by 47 feet 9 inches and for estimating purposes has an area of 934 square feet. Cubic contents measure 13,735 cubic feet.

Working drawings for this plan, known as Design 60-14, may be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Harris Pupils Succeeds

Competing in the class for girls under 11 years of age, among 18 contestants, Jean Barnes of Aurora won first place for the second consecutive year at the C.N.E. Yvonne Yake of Aurora was awarded second place in the same class. Donna Case took third place for girls under 13.

All of these students, including Mrs. Murray Young, whose success was noted in a preceding paragraph, were prepared for the competitions by Mr. Iltyd Harris.

Joins Aurora Rotary

Mr. Iltyd Harris attended his first meeting of the Aurora Rotary club on Monday of this week as a new member.

This, however, is not Mr. Harris' first acquaintanceship with Rotary. He was a member of the Sault Ste. Marie Rotary club during the period he spent there as music supervisor of the city.

The Aurora Rotary club, we understand, is nearing its membership objective of 35.

Wedding Anniversary

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Stew. Patrick who have recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

S. Gordon Hoffman

The other morning we ran into Mr. Gordon Hoffman, who was looking so sartorially immaculate that we must put him among the top best-dressed men in Aurora. He was, as usual, bubbling over with progressive ideas.

Some of these ideas we will have to get into an early study of Mr. Hoffman, in our "Aurora Personalities" panel. He is dynamic and original.

YORK PIONEERS PAY TRIBUTE TO C.N.E. MANAGEMENT

Tribute to their service to history and international relations was paid to R. C. Berkinshaw, president of the Canadian National Exhibition, and Elwood A. Hughes, general manager, by the York Pioneer and Historical Society at a special meeting of the society in the Scadding cabin on the Exhibition grounds on Thursday, September 6. In declaring Messrs. Berkinshaw and Hughes honorary members, the president, Major J. C. Boylen read the following citation:

"We wish to pay tribute to the public service of Mr. R. C. Berkinshaw, M.B.E., president of the Canadian National Exhibition, and Mr. Elwood A. Hughes, O.B.E., general manager of the Exhibition, and the management of the Exhibition, in assisting this society in keeping available to the public this place, the cabin of John Scadding. These walls contain the logs of Toronto's oldest habitation. John Scadding, in 1794, cut these logs for a dwelling on his land grant on the east side of the Don south of Gerard St. When the Exhibition was held on these lands for the first time in 1879 this habitation was moved here by this society in association with the Exhibition management, for preservation and to serve as a reminder, amid the improvements annually on display here, of the primitive dwellings of the founders of British Toronto."

"Not only does the C.N.E. call public attention to this relic of the beginnings of British Toronto but also to the fact that this relic stands on the site of the early Toronto of the white man. This was the site of the French fort of Toronto which was destroyed in 1759 to prevent its capture by the British."

"Annually, also, the C.N.E. reminds its hosts of visitors that these lands are the battleground over which the Americans advanced in 1813 to capture Fort York and the capital of Upper Canada; that now these lands are an international centre where Canadians and Americans meet as friends at an annual fair which has become the greatest of its kind in the world."

Gold badges of membership were presented to the two new members by Mrs. W. M. Robb and Miss Alice Wetherell of the museum committee of the society.

Bees Ousted From Lodgings

Bees that long ago joined the local Masonic Lodge, were ousted from their hive in the top portion of the tower of the Masonic hall at King by D. M. Ross and Fred Boys last Saturday. They had crawled through a small opening where the outside electric light projects from the building. It was necessary to tear down an opening about three by five feet on the inside of the building in order to drive out the bees. Mr. Ross said there were a "couple of dish pans of real good honey," which he and Mr. Boys took in pay for their afternoon's work. Bees had been driven from the place a couple of years ago but the outside opening had not been cemented over to prevent further habitation by the honey-makers.

Women Safer Drivers-Vern Page

Vernon Page, Toronto traffic inspector, apparently has a good opinion of women car drivers. He told the 50 contestants in the Traffic and Accident Quiz, sponsored by the C.N.E. last week, "Women are safer drivers than men." He also said he was not surprised that the three winners were those of the fair sex. There were only a dozen or more men in the contest, but even they failed to measure up to the standard of knowledge, quick thinking, and written answers put up by the women. Mrs. Len Shropshire of King, second prize winner, has driven for 16 years. Mrs. Austin Rumble of King also competed but said she was unable to show the speed required to write down her answers to Mr. Page's questions. "It was the nicest contest I have ever entered," she declared. Mrs. Rumble was one of a team from King W.I. to come second in Know Canada contest at the 1950 Exhibition.

Declines Office

After holding the post as head of Zone 22, Legion Auxiliary, for one term, Mrs. Beryl Fleet declined to accept the office for a second term at a meeting of the Zone held at Woodbridge on Monday evening. Mrs. Fleet said she preferred the presidency be conferred on a member of an older branch. Mrs. George Duffield of Aurora was elected.

The retiring president was highly commended for her competency. She presided over the business session and Mrs. L. Long, the provincial president, was chairman. Reports covering the year's activities were presented by auxiliaries, which will be summarized by Mrs. Fleet for her presentation at the Provincial Legion Auxiliary meeting at Timmins in October.

Others attending from King were Mrs. Hazel Campbell, Mrs. E. Bice, Mrs. Jean Disley, Mrs. Jean Wood, Mrs. H. Lockhart.

Wins Class in C.N.E. Dog Show

Linda Lee O'Shaunessy, the four-year-old Irish terrier owned by Carol Brown of King, took the first prize ribbon in her class at the C.N.E. last week. She took first as the best female in the Irish terriers' class. Carol hopes to have her own kennels some day. Linda Lee O'Shaunessy, born on March 17, was raised by her mistress from two months old.

Hounds Claim High Prizes

Charles Egan, an importer and exporter of the black and tan hunting hounds came in for his usual prize earnings at the C.N.E. His registered three and a half year old Hill-N-Glen placed first in an open class, and won the reserve winner's ribbon. This 85-lb. hound took the silver cup at Streetsville and district show in July, won the purple ribbon and the best of breed. Rocky Mountain Rocket, year and a half black and tan, took ribbons at the Exhibition Canadian Sportsman Show, Guelph and Dixie. Mr. Egan shows at all high class shows and is a consistent winner. He has had many years' experience and has never lost the thrill of his hobby.

Baked in Old Wood Stove

Modern kitchens of today scorn the old fashioned wood stove on the farm. More than that, they would turn their backs on a stove without a readable indicator, and on one that had to have the oven door propped open part of the time during the 7-hour baking time required for a three-layer, 16-lb. fruit cake that was a bride's wedding cake, on Saturday, Sept. 8.

The mistress of a modern kitchen would die in the attempt if she had to stoke the fire with slow-burning blocks of wood, and test the heat of the "just right" oven temperature with her hand, aided by sheets of brown paper placed over the top of the cakes. If the paper curls on the edges the oven is too hot, so open the door a bit more. And then too, culinary modernists might breathe short if they knew this aforementioned wedding cake was made in tins more than 70 years old.

Mrs. Aubrey Campbell of Kinghorn did just that for June Brown's wedding. The cake was the dream of culinary art, delicious to eat and beautiful to see. She decorated it with "frilly" icing, adorned it with pink rosebuds and silver beads, giving it the regal touch with plastic pillars. It was the admiration of the reception guests and the pride of the bride.

The wood stove has been in the Campbell kitchen for a long time, and the cake tins were used by Aubrey Campbell's grandmother. Made a month in advance of the wedding, so it would "ripen", the cake was blended nicely, said Mrs. Campbell, who has never entered a baking contest. "Just luck and a liking for this kind of work," says the farmer's wife.

Wilson Reunion

The annual Wilson-Rankin reunion was held on Sunday at Donnelly Park, Pine Grove, 100 attending when the older people and the younger generation had a real get-together. Mervin Wilson and family, Mrs. Cecil Walker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kirby; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bowen and family of King, Meal Wilsons, Roy Wilson and family, the Elmer Hadwen family, all of Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Hadwen of Belleville and many others were present. Betty Louise Bowen of King was the youngest guest and the older members of the clan were Mrs. Will Wright, Toronto, Mrs. Geo. Huggill of Woodbridge, Mrs. E. Riddell of Detroit, Mr. Silverthorne of Toronto. Others came from Bradford, Markham, and Schomberg. Fred Wilson, Toronto, was named the new president of the clan, succeeding Les Wright of Toronto.

Birthday Celebration

On September 26, Kingscrafts Guild will celebrate the first birthday anniversary at "Kingswood", the home of Lady Flavella, con. 7 at 2.15 p.m. A private sale of craft work among members will be held on that day. The Guild began a year ago with 30 members and has grown to a membership of 72.

Miss Marion Wight, home economist of the W.I. branch, and Home Economic Service of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, will conduct a Food Forum on Monday, Sept. 24, under the auspices of King W.I. at King United church. Temperanceville Institute is invited to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Walker of Kirkland Lake visited Mrs. T. L. Williams during the weekend, and also the brother, Ross Walker and others of the Walker family. They stayed with Mrs. Fred Boys at Oak Ridge, a sister of Mrs. Walker.

Mrs. T. L. Williams, district W.M.S. vice president, addressed the society of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, at the home of Mrs. Harrison, Vaughan Township. Mrs. Alex Bishop is president of the St. Paul's Vaughan auxiliary. The meeting was held today Thursday.

Movie Appreciated

A religious sound film, entitled "A Beautiful Life", produced by the Lutheran church of the U.S.A. was appreciated at Eversley church last Sunday evening when 30, including visitors from Strange W.M.S. and King United, were present. Mrs. L. Shropshire, who was organist, read the scripture lesson from Psalm 46 and Mrs. R. Farren offered prayer, with Miss A. A. Ferguson giving the offertory prayer. Mrs. Gordon Orr sang two solos. The minister, Mr. David Witherspoon, spoke on the film subject, emphasizing the work of women in the church, and the great purpose of the missionary society. Mrs. D. M. Ross and Mrs. T. L. Williams took up the offering and Mrs. F. Curtis, the president, expressed appreciation of the attendance and the part participants played in assisting with the program.

Truck Driver Escapes Injury

The driver of a Belleville gravel truck narrowly escaped injury when the truck broke off the shoulder of the road, dropping into a five foot ditch on the King and Vaughan townline east of the fourth concession, late last week. The top of the cab was completely smashed. He had to take to the ditch, half filled with water, to avoid collision with a car on the narrow piece of roadway. "It was a lady driver and she went right on," he declared, viewing the vehicle and the gravel scattered all about the place. Two tow trucks were used to extricate the vehicle, which was extensively damaged.

Minister and Choir to Visit Cayuga Church

On Sunday morning, Sept. 16, Rev. M. R. Jenkinson and Teston United church choir will take part in anniversary service at Cayuga United church, 20 miles out of Hamilton, when Mr. Jenkinson will be the preacher. The parents of Mr. Keith Camden, a member of the Teston choir, are in the Cayuga congregation. On that day, service at the Teston church will be withdrawn to honor Hope United church anniversary. At King and Laskay churches, Mr. Gordon Tolley of King will preach the regular services, 10 a.m. and 2.30 p.m. respectively. King Sunday-school will be held as usual at 11 a.m. On Sunday, Sept. 23, Mr. Jenkinson will preach the Thanksgiving service at Snowball United, 7.30 p.m., and Teston church will sing, and on Sunday, Sept. 30, Mr. Jenkinson will be guest preacher at the evening service of Temperanceville anniversary day.

The regular meeting of Eversley Presbyterian W.M.S. was held this Thursday at the home of Mrs. Jas. Ball, a week earlier

New Classroom at King Now Being Used

All three classrooms of King school were in use on Monday morning. The new addition was opened for grades 1 and 2, and Miss Doris Patton, the teacher, is delighted with the surroundings. She moved from her former classroom into the new room, while Miss Thomas, the additional teacher, occupies the south room with grades 3 and 4. Principal, Miss Dennis, continues in her classroom with grades 5, 6, 7 and 8. The painting has not been completed but when finished in tones of green and yellow will have excellent appearance. There are about 24 pupils in each room. The school board hopes to have an official opening so that ratepayers may see the extent and benefits of the remodeling program.

For a few moments on Monday noon, a flash fire caused concern, when an hydro wire leading from the outside through the roof caught fire. The cocking was burned but quick action of one of the painters averted disaster. Climbing a ladder, he grasped the hot wire, disconnecting it. The lighter wiring was only temporary and was to have been replaced by heavy cable.

Sixers to Enroll

The trustee board of S. S. 2, King, has agreed to enroll children now who will be six years of age by the end of February. At present there are but two children in this class ready to start.

than usual, as the fall rally of Toronto West W.M.S. Presbyterian will fall on Sept. 20 in St. Paul's church, Bathurst St., Toronto.

King United W.M.S. also met today (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. J. Patton when the new study book entitled "From Lakes to Northern Lights," a study of Canadian home missions, was introduced. Mrs. J. P. Norris took the devotionals. Mrs. C. H. Stewart presided.

All Saints' Anglican W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Crawford Wells on Wednesday. It has been agreed to conduct the meetings of the coming term on the second Wednesday of each month, to avoid conflict with those of St. John's, Oak Ridges, W.A. meetings. All Saints' W.A. has been invited to attend the 50th anniversary of Trinity W.A., Aurora, on Sept. 13.

Reports of St. Andrew's W.M.S. and Laskay W.M.S. will be found in next week's issue.

Drives School Bus on U.S. Tour

Don McQuarrie recently had a pleasant experience, driving a Langdon bus to New York City, when 28 girls of Shelbourne high school, with the principal and his wife and two lady teachers, visited there for a few days, returning via Montreal, Ottawa and North Bay. The tour is conducted every year, alternating for boys and girls. They are required to put up $25 each toward the trip, their school board financing the outstanding expenditures.

The students sleep on ground sheets beneath a tarpaulin braced to the side of the bus. Don and Principal Ragg slept in the bus. Shortly after arriving home, Don became a father for a second time. A son, John Bruce, was born to his wife, Freda, on Saturday, Sept. 1, at York County hospital, Newmarket. Their older child, Ronald, will be a year old on October 4. Mrs. McQuarrie and the baby came home from hospital last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jones and son Stephen, Toronto, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Campbell.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Campbell on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Jones of Cherrywood, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Badger and son Jim of Bolton. Mr. Badger, Sr., came with them to see his brother, Mr. Albert Badger.

Fractures Hip

Mr. R. H. McLeod, Sr., is in the Toronto Western hospital with a fractured hip sustained when he fell in his home while attempting to pick up a daily paper. Mr. McLeod, 73, does not know just how he happened to fall. He has been in very poor health for a long time and has little reserve strength to count on. His condition on Monday was reported satisfactory, although a bad asthmatic condition and a heart trouble do not tend to make him feel comfortable at all.

Label Worth $100

A radio announcer proclaimed Mrs. Duncan Thompson of King winner of $100, a cash prize given by Canada Dry Ginger Ale, for recognition of a current hit song played upon ginger ale bottles, over the air. It was "Blueberry Hill." Mrs. Thompson was greatly excited when told she was the winner of the money; she couldn't eat her supper, nor could her mother. She had sent in four labels of Canada Dry to the company. Mrs. F. J. Armstrong received $25 for selling the ginger ale to Mrs. Thompson.

HOPE FOR BIGGER, BETTER EARS OF CORN

Scientists studying effects of continuous radiation on plants at Brookhaven, N.Y., national laboratory, hope that their experiments will result in improved strains of corn and vegetables. Here is a closeup view of hub of wheel, showing iron pipe in which 200 curies of radio-active material is located. The plants in wedge-shaped trays receive benefit of maximum radiation.

King W.I. Members Win At 'Ex', Aid Fund

King Women's Institute has brought honors to the local community and the W.I. district, placing second in the C.N.E. special contest, "Five Ways to Improve the C.N.E.," against nearly 30 teams. The competition was held last Saturday on Citizens' and Cadet Day in the Coliseum building. Smithfield Good Fellowship Club, near Weston, won the first prize of $100.

A volunteer committee of six Institute members compiled and presented suggestions, earning $75, which will be applied to the branch trust fund established for a community hall project.

Further laurels came to King when Mrs. Leonard Shropshire won $75, the second prize in the C.N.E. "Traffic and Accident Quiz," conducted by Inspector Vernon Page. She competed against 50, writing 30 time-limit answers to questions asked by Mr. Page. Quick thinking and writing were necessary in this contest. A member of the W.I., Mrs. Shropshire will donate half of her $75 to the Institute building fund. As a result of these efforts the fund has been boosted to more than $1,000.

Mrs. A. E. Jarvis, W.I. president, Mrs. Gordon Wells, Mrs. Harvey Polliott, Mrs. Archie

Campbell, Mrs. Roy Hollingshead and Miss Eva Dennis were responsible for the prize-winning improvement suggestions. They formed two teams, each presenting five improvements, with the stronger points assigned to one group. These were written at the scene of the contest by each team. Only one advance meeting had been held by the representatives, who pooled their ideas. After considerable discussion the final selection for the contest was made. The C. N.E. cheque was handed over to Mrs. Jarvis.

Prize Winning Suggestions

The following are the five points for C.N.E. improvement offered by King W.I.; provide free chart of exhibition grounds at entrance gates to lessen the difficulty of locating buildings; provide an all-Canadian grandstand performance, with Canadian talent, background and subject; provide more waste containers, particularly near booths, and have them painted orange; have the C.N.E. extended to three weeks or more to accommodate the growing crowds; provide an adequate building for women's activities, the present congested accommodation is deplorable.

Building Has Varied Career Now To Be Used For Library

If you happen to see the barber shop on rollers, towed along village streets, you will know the town has not gone hay-wire. You will know it is being moved to the park to serve a high and mighty purpose, that of temporary quarters for King memorial library. However, you may not be aware that about 55 years back, the barber shop was the office of the township clerk, Charlie Patterson, and that it stood on the south side of the Carson house, where the Pattersons lived at that time.

It was entered off the south end of the west veranda. Mr. Patterson held office for several years and had received his appointment while his father-in-law, Jim Stokes, was reeve of King township. The hotelkeeper, Mr. Hogan, later moved the building across the road and it became the house of tonsorial artists for many years.

Once again, the place is off to a new life, and a very good one at that. It has been purchased from Pete Glass and Jack Armstrong of King City Motors by the library board for $200. Being in good shape, with plastered walls, electric wiring, a chimney and a fairly good paint job, it will suffice as a library room until such time as a community hall is built. According to proposed plans, a community centre would provide for library space.

Financial Aid Asked

In the meantime, financial assistance is now required to get the building ready for use. The board is able to pay for the building but other needs are immediate. Cash donations will be gladly accepted by officials. Additional shelves, fresh paint and incidental equipment will be required. A desk with drawers is badly needed and if anyone has one to donate that too would be welcomed. Mrs. G. D. Lockhart has given a desk swivel chair.

Largest freight yard in Canada is Montreal's Turel terminal operated by the C.N.R. It has 55 miles of track.

VANDORF

Schools are open for another season! Vandorf welcomes their new teacher Miss Shirley Wilson of Barrie.

A very enjoyable evening was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ball when neighbors and friends gathered in honor of Mr. Norman Nigh and Helen Fockler with a shower of lovely gifts and best wishes.

Wesley Women's Association meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Greenwood on Wednesday, Aug. 29, with 32 ladies in attendance. The Devotional period was given by Mrs. D. Baber and the topic on Temperance was given by a guest speaker, Mrs. Wilson of Richmond Hill, who gave a very inspirational talk and a splendid report of the Y.W.C.A. convention which was held in Toronto. We were also favored with a few well chosen words from Mrs. Phipps who accompanied Mrs. Wilson. A very interesting afternoon closed with a social time and a lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Dike, Mrs. Hawtin and Mrs. Starr.

Master Bryson Powell who has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. William Powell of Aurora, is returning to his home and later will attend school at Lakefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lavender and son Michael, were supper guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Brown and family. A very pleasant surprise was when Mr. Brown presented Mr. Lavender with a lovely gold watch in appreciation of his success of his five years' service. Mr. Lavender will still continue his good work.

A notice has been received of the Women's Institute District Conference to be held in Aurora on Friday afternoon, October 19, 1.30 p.m. The subject is "We Call It Human Nature" and Miss Irene McBride from the Department will be the speaker. All ladies are invited to attend.

Mr. Tom Beale of Brockville visited his grandmother, Mrs. George Preston, last week. Mrs. James Wright and her sisters, Miss Ethel Carrigan and Mrs. Burgess, Toronto, visited Mrs. H. A. Switzer last Thursday.
